—Ex-Mayor Henry E. Bothfield of Hunnewell avenue was one of a party of four to walk several days ago from Jefferson Highlands, N. H., to the Summit, Mt. Washington. The other members of the party were Messrs. A. Morris Carey, G. Cheston Carey and James Carey of Baltimore. They made the trip by way of the Cascade camp, and found the lower part of the path practically ruined by the logging operations. The ascent was most difficult. Of this trip Among the Clouds comments as follows: "Mr. Bothfield is one of the climbers whom one expects to see here every year, but still it was a surprise to learn that this was his fiftieth ascent. He has been climbing for 25 years or so and has come up by almost every conceivable route. Few who come here have a record of a 'semi-centennial' ascent by actual account. This was the first climb for the Carey boys, who are 10 and 12 years old respectively. They proved good mountaineers and were ready to go on with the party this morning to the Crawford House by the bridal path. The return to the Highlands was to be made by the Jefferson Notch road."

—Mrs. George S. Butters of Wesley street, who occupied his pulpit at the Methodist church on Sunday, has been spending the week at his summer cottage at Meganisset. Dr. Butters and family will soon return to Newton for the winter season.

Big School Registration Next Monday

Record May be Reached at The High School

The Newton high school will open its doors for another year's work on Monday. From present indications there will be the largest registration of students in the history of the school, the number doubtless being around the 1000 mark.

The past week has been an extremely busy one for Headmaster Enoch C. Adams and his assistants. They have been kept busy registering pupils who will come to the high school after having attended schools in other places, and attending to the many minor details incident to the reopening of the classes.

Of the large number of pupils who were graduates last June a large percentage will continue their studies in various well known institutions this year.

Following are the college intentions of the graduates as declared at the close of school in June:

Boston Normal School—Julia S. Lewis, Marie A. Robbins.

Barnard College—Elise S. Eddy.

Boston School of Physical Culture—Helen Mars.

Boston University—Gladys Avery, Ella M. McGrath.

Emerson School of Oratory—Ora M. McMillin.

Mt. Holyoke—Carrie H. Lamond.

Marion Spaulding, Gladys M. Stevens.

Radcliffe—Helen W. Prescott, Mildred N. Frost, Margaret T. Jackson.

Smith—Margaret Foss, Helen Luitwiler, Ethel Stimson, Carlotta Stone.

Abbott Academy—Katherine B. Raymond.

Vassar—Miriam Scott.

Simmons—Angusta B. Barker.

Wellesley—Alice L. Atwood, Alice Carey, Margaret E. Goodrich, Marion Howlett, Selma F. Smith.

Framingham Normal—Margaret G. Burgess, Laura Colligan, Florence L. Kenway, Julia E. King, Edith A. Lamont, Margaret Loring, Emma Sladen.

National Park Seminary—Marion D. Tucker, Victoria I. Shattuck.

Amherst—Robt. W. Boyden, Richard Henry, Ward J. Parks.

Brown—Brayton C. Case, Percy D. McPhee, Benjamin D. Miller, W. Gile Randlett, Thornton M. Richards, Alan J. Young.

PUMP BROKE DOWN

Accident Caused Tie-up of Cars on the Holiday

There was a tie-up of the electrics on Washington street and Commonwealth avenue line Monday afternoon caused by an accident in the Homer street power house. The cars were able to move only at a snail's pace for over an hour and many pleasure seekers out to enjoy the holiday were delayed in reaching their destinations.

It was about 3 P. M. that a piston of a pump in the power house broke down. The break was caused by a defect in the steel, it was discovered after workmen were able to reach the broken part. The pump had done service for a long time without there ever before having been any trouble, and there was no way of telling that there was a bad place in the piston.

An auxiliary pump was immediately started. This had been run but a short time when it also broke down. As quickly as possible the regular pump was repaired while the cars stood at various places along the thoroughfares. Within a short time the power was again turned on and by 7:30 the electrics all over the city were again running on schedule time. There was no trouble with the transportation facilities during the evening.

DRANK PARIS GREEN

Woman a Suicide in Boat near Auburndale

Apparently She Tried to Drown Herself First

Despondent because of an incurable growth on her neck which was unsightly and painful, Mrs. Susanna Lyndell, aged 39 years, wife of Henry Lyndell, a painter, living at 27 Stanton street, Malden, drank a solution of paris green and water while in a row boat on the Charles river and died at 5 Sunday morning in the Newton hospital.

The woman was found lying in the boat she had hired by Joseph Moorehead and Richard C. Jacobs, boathouse employees, who started to search for the craft when it was not returned within a reasonable time. Treatment at the Metropolitan park police station only temporarily relieved the woman's pains and at 2 A. M. she was removed to the Newton hospital where she sank slowly until the end came about 5.

While being treated in the emergency rooms of the police station Mrs. Lyndell became conscious enough to tell the officers why she attempted to take her own life. "I have had no trouble with my husband and he provided a good home, but I could not stand my affliction longer," she asserted.

Mrs. Lyndell had arranged Saturday afternoon to accompany some Malden friends to Revere Beach for the evening. Her husband was to attend a meeting of an organization to which he belonged. The woman did not meet her friends but instead came out to Newton and spent the afternoon at Norumbega park.

Late in the afternoon she left the park and hired a canvas covered row boat from one of the boat houses adjoining the grounds. She was seen to row up stream by a number of the employees. Late last night when it came time to close up the boat house this craft was the only one which had not been returned. It was shortly before midnight that Moorehead and Jacobs started in a canoe to search the river for the missing craft. After hunting for sometime they found the rowboat in the middle of a little cove near the Riverside recreation ground buildings.

The woman was propped up in a comfortable manner among the cushions in the middle of the boat, as though asleep. When the young men paddled to her side they were alarmed to find her apparently dead. They rapidly paddled back to the park police station, a short distance down stream. Officers of the station hurried back to the spot in boats and finding that the woman was deathly cold but was breathing slightly took her with all haste back to the station. In the emergency room restoratives were applied and Dr. C. P. Hutchinson of Auburndale was summoned.

When the park police examined the woman's clothes they were mystified to find that she had without doubt been into the river. Beneath her outer coat her clothes were dripping wet, but the outer garment was as dry as tinder. The park police were unable to solve this phrase of the case, but they think the woman may have tried to drown herself and finding that she was in shallow water had climbed back into the rowboat and then put on her coat.

Dr. Hutchinson had a consultation with Medical Examiner West over the telephone and as a result it was decided to remove Mrs. Lyndell to the Newton hospital as quickly as she revived sufficiently. Here the physicians and nurses did everything possible to save her life but their efforts were fruitless.

As the woman admitted during the short time she became conscious at the police station that she had taken the poison herself and told the reason for the act no autopsy was deemed necessary.

It was because she swallowed a large dose of the paris green and water that her life was prolonged until 5 o'clock. The overdose caused her to throw up a large amount of the solution, as the police found later by examining the rowboat in which she was found. Had she taken only a small dose, it is stated, she would have doubtless died very quickly.

The woman's husband came to this city and took charge of the body. He said that there had been no trouble between his wife and himself. When she did not return home in the evening he did not become alarmed because he thought she was with a number of Malden friends with whom she had arranged to visit Revere Beach. He was heartbroken when he learned of his wife's tragic death.

Western New York state will beat the record this year in its potato crop notwithstanding the dry weather. The explanation is that the farmers cross their potatoes with onions and the former vegetable waters so copiously from the eyes that the ground is kept moist enough to encourage a normal growth.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Ambulance Broke Near Church St. Bridge

Was Rushing to Man Who Had Fallen from Pole

While Chief of Police Frederic M. Mitchell and Driver Thomas Dolan were rushing at full speed in the police ambulance Saturday night to the assistance of a man whom they believed was seriously injured, the pole of the vehicle broke and a bad accident was narrowly averted.

The accident occurred just after the ambulance had crossed the Church-street bridge after coming at a fast clip from West Newton. The high horse lost his footing when the pair started at a smart clip again after bumping over the bridge from Washington street. The animal pulled the off horse from his feet and the pole snapped.

Before Driver Dolan could get the horses under control they scrambled to their feet and started to run up Church street. The harness held and the ambulance was pulled up the thoroughfare to Park street, rolling from one side of the street to the other and grazing telephone poles and the curbsings. It was at great risk that Chief Mitchell and Driver Dolan clung to the seat. Dolan finally succeeded in bringing the horses to a stop near the house of Ex-Mayor Alonzo R. Weed.

The ambulance was on its way to remove Mervin W. Seelye, a telephone lineman, who had fallen from a pole at the corner of Park and Sargent streets. Word was then sent to the Newton hospital for its ambulance. City Physician E. R. Utley also responded to a call and found that although the man had fallen from near the top of the pole into the street no bones were broken and his worst injuries were minor contusions and a general shaking up. Before the hospital ambulance arrived the telephone company had the man started home to Winter Hill, Somerville, in a hack.

Chief Mitchell said that it was impossible to check the ambulance as the horses ran after breaking the pole because there was not a proper brake on the vehicle. The ambulance will have to undergo slight repairs and one will be put on the vehicle.

Seelye had been in the employ of the telephone company only about three weeks, although he had been employed as a lineman by other companies. It was about 6 o'clock when he lost his footing on one of the cross bars and fell.

The horses were considerably cut and bruised by their fall.

FAKE WATER INSPECTOR

Imposter Working in Newtonville has Been There Before

A young man who has gained entrance to a number of houses in Newtonville the last few days on the pretext that he was a water pipe inspector with the intention it is alleged of robbing, is believed to be the same person who two weeks ago posed as a gas inspector in the same village.

Although the young man has tried to enter several houses in the last few days on the pretense of looking for leaks in the water pipes he has succeeded in getting little that belonged to the occupants.

The man is described as about 20 years old, 5 feet, 7 inches tall, of light complexion and wearing a dark coat, trousers and cap and a white shirt.

ELIOT CHURCH DAY

Newtonians Sent Floating Hospital on Another Trip

It was "Eliot Church Day" on the Boston Floating hospital Saturday when a large number of worthy mothers and children enjoyed the trip. Members of Eliot church of this city contributed $150 with which to defray the expenses of the trip.

Among the Newtonians who visited the hospital Saturday and expressed their admiration for the good work being done were Dr. and Mrs. B. T. Loring, Mrs. Morgan Sweeney and Mrs. A. O. Wetherbee. Other visitors included Dr. John F. Horsey, a graduate of Wadham college, Oxford, England, who is connected with Charing Cross hospital, London, England, and who is making a visitation tour of all the hospitals in America. Dr. Horsey was very much impressed with the methods of the hospital, and on his return from New York will make a close study of the Boston floating hospital, which he says is so unique that he will write an article about it for a leading medical journal in London.

At a meeting of the trustees it was definitely settled that the hospital will make her last trip for the season Sept. 15.

LABOR DAY PICNIC

Carnival at Lower Falls

a Big Success

Tug-of-War and Hose-Coupling

Contests Features

Features of the 15th annual carnival and picnic of St. John's parish at the Lower Falls were the tug-of-war and hose-coupling contests which attracted wide interest. The carnival took place Monday afternoon and evening on the grounds opposite the church edifice on Washington street, just over the Wellesley line. The affair attracted several hundred patrons from this city and surrounding places.

On an apparatus invented by Rev. Fr. Patrick H. Callahan, the pastor, the Thomas Francis-Meagher team of Boston won the tug-of-war contest against a picked team of seven local strongmen. They won in two straight pulls amid the applause of many spectators. In the first heat the visitors made 1-2 inches and in the second heat 2 inches flat. The prize was a purse of $50 in gold.

Another feature which was, perhaps, of as great interest, was the hose-coupling contest. After several preliminary trials by other teams it was won by D. Kerrigan and W. F. Hammond of engine 1, Woburn, in 14 1-2 seconds. T. Hammond and J. Hammond, also of engine 1, Woburn, were a close second, and John Cook and George White of hose 1, Arlington, were third.

The hose-coupling contests were under the supervision of Chief Daniel F. Warren of the Wellesley fire department. The firemen jumped out of bed at the sound of the alarm and donned their pants, rubber boots, coats and hats.

Connecting in a proper manner 50 feet of hose to a hydrant and dropping the pipe to a line on the flooring after putting a gate on the opposite end the men stood at attention. The time was taken from the minute the alarm was sounded until the last man of each team stepped over the line into position. The Woburn firemen received a warm round of applause for their quick work.

There was a large variety of other sports for men, women and children which lasted throughout the afternoon and evening. Several acres of greenward were given over to the merry-makers. The grounds made a little canvas city within which many patrons found plenty of amusement.

In the evening colored electric lights added to the more conventional decorations of red, white and blue bunting.

The early afternoon was given over to a variety of sports for boys and girls, into which many of the little folk of the vicinity entered with zest. The side attractions included about every feature of a country fair.

The women of the parish took no little interest in making the carnival a financial success. They divided sections of the village into nine districts. Each of these districts was represented by a refreshment table in charge of young women. Each one of the tables was attractively arranged under a tent and was well patronized.

Those in charge of various tables were the following:

No. 1—Mrs. Annie Morgan, Annie Leonard, Rose Lechane, Etta Purcell, Lizzie Leonard, Nellie Costello, Agnes Early, Annie Lechane, Mrs. William Rouke, Mary Costello, Fanny Fitzgerald, Martin Cormier.

In the evening there was a vaudeville program, consisting of baritone solos by Mr. Charles P. Stuart, buck and wing dancing by Miss Mary Thompson, soprano solos by Miss Emma Ecker, monologue by Mr. E. W. Wright, baritone solos by Mr. Thomas Ratigan and cornet solos by Mr. F. M. Smith. Mrs. George Stuart was accompanist.

The carnival netted the parish a snug sum. The arrangements were in charge of Rev. Fr. Callahan, assisted by Rev. Fr. J. J. McGrath, assistant pastor, and a long list of aids. The sports were in charge of Messrs. Thomas C. Hyde, William Donahoe, Thomas Colliton and Dr. F. T. Costello.

TOOK HORSE AND CARRIAGE

Newton Men Held for Grand Jury for Midnight Ride

Dennis M. O'Leary, 32 years old, living at 16 Center place, and Arthur J. Deacks, 33, of Pearl street, were arraigned in the police court Saturday on a charge of breaking and entering a stable on Pearl and Jewett streets. It was alleged that they took a horse and buggy owned by H. E. Johnson about midnight. Probable cause being found they were held in $500 each for the grand jury.

The men pleaded not guilty. Mr. Johnson testified to going to the stable about midnight and finding the rig missing. Patrolman Thomas Hewitt of the Everett police testified that he stopped the two men in Everett early Friday morning before he had received word that a rig was missing from Newton.

As they told him several stories as to where they got the horse and carriage he held them on suspicion. The outfit was yesterday brought back to Newton. When asked what he cared to say Deacks commented that he did not think that it was a case of breaking and entering as he had a key to the stable and had fed the horse a number of times. Mr. Johnson asserted that the man had no right to go into the stable.

CITY HALL NOTES

Mortality Record Not as Large as Last Year

According to the report of the board of health for the past month there were 35 deaths in this city in August, an increase of 10 over the previous month. Twelve of these were of persons under one year of age, while one was that of a woman over 80. The medical examiner was called to two cases, one being a death from enteritis and one from electric shock. Twenty-two of the deaths were of males and 13 females. The death rate for the month was 11.18, against 7.98 for July. There were four cases of diphtheria, 12 of scarlet fever, five of typhoid fever and one of measles on hand the first of the present month. During the month just closed 52 rooms were disinfected. In August last year there were 43 deaths.

RECORD FOR TIPOVERS

Sunday a Star Day for River Accidents—None Serious

The record of accidental tipovers by canoeists in the Auburndale reservation of the Charles river was broken Sunday, when 19 pleasure-seekers took unwelcome baths. The accidents were of a widely varying sort and kept the park police on the jump throughout the afternoon and evening. The drying rooms in the park police station were in constant use. Fortunately none of the accidents resulted seriously.

Four of the unfortunate canoeists were young women, who got ashore with little difficulty. Nine men also reached shore with the assistance of the river officers and other canoeists without endangering their lives. Three young men who overturned in midstream swam to the bank.

After drying out in the station the canoeists were able to leave for their homes little the worse for their experience. Nearly everyone of the accidents was due to carelessness in handling the frail craft or inexperience in paddling. It was near the so-called "long" bridge that the three young men overturned in the middle of the stream and were obliged to swim to the bank. Their canoe was recovered shortly afterward.

One young woman overturned in shallow water while watching the other canoeists from "Rubberneck" cove, Auburndale. She waded to the bank. From several of the boathouse floats men walked off the edge of the planks while gazing at the many varicolored craft which thickly dotted the river.

While looking over the dam on the east branch of the Charles river at the Hemlock Gorge reservation at Newton Upper Falls a young man lost his footing and fell in. Other than receiving minor bruises and drenching his Sunday suit he was uninjured.

FOR SECOND TIME

Mysterious Fire in Fruit Store at 3 A. M.

Believed to Have Been Set—Investigation Under Way

For the second time within eight days a fire broke out early Tuesday morning in the fruit store of Danbed Dogosian on Washington street, Norantum square, and as a result the police have started an investigation.

The blaze was discovered about 3 1/2 hours by Patrolman McNeil of division 3. The fire had gained a brisk start in the first floor of the small building near the rear. In response to an alarm from box 15 the firemen succeeded in keeping the blaze from spreading to the buildings adjoining. Occupants of several of the structures in the immediate vicinity left their homes.

The fruit store was gutted, the front of the building being broken in and much of the stock ruined. The damage was estimated at $250, and is covered by insurance. It is believed the fire was of incendiary origin.

Shortly after 2 a week ago Sergt. Burke and Patrolman Dow discovered a fire burning briskly in the store. The policemen forced an entrance into the building and extinguished the blaze. The damage amounted to about $10.

Rats and matches were said to have been the cause. Had the blaze not been discovered when it was a serious fire would have doubtless resulted for the store is in the midst of several wooden business blocks.

COMMUNICATIONS

Veteran Canoeist Speaks Good Word for Park Officers

Editor of the GRAPHIC: In behalf of many of the canoeists who frequent the Charles river I believe a word of commendation is due the officers of the Metropolitan park police at Auburndale. These officers have without exception, I believe, been most courteous to the hundreds of pleasure seekers who visited the river this season. The officers have done much to make the sport of canoeing safe and enjoyable. Having spent many days on the river for several seasons I have as yet failed to find one instance when courtesy was lacking on the part of any one of the officers. The devotees of canoeing who frequent that section of the river under the jurisdiction of the Metropolitan park police owe a great debt of gratitude to every person connected with the station.

Out of justice to the officers I hope that the GRAPHIC may find room for this brief communication in an early issue. A Veteran Canoeist.

SHIRTS FULL OF PEARS

Cost Two Men $5 Each to Fill Them Without Permission

Caught stealing pears on the estate of the late S. B. Hinckley at Chestnut Hill early in the evening, Petro Deyess, 20 years old, and Francisco Baldi, 34, both living at 341 Hanover street, Boston, were Saturday morning arraigned in court on charges of trespass. They were fined $5 each. There have been many complaints by residents of Chestnut Hill recently that visitors trespass on the private estates in that village and make wholesale raids on the fruit trees. Deyess and Baldi, the police say, had their shirts stuffed full of pears when arrested.

The courses of instruction are so arranged at Burdett College, the well known School of Business and Short-hand at 18 Boylston St., Boston, that a pupil can enter any Monday morning and go right on with the work. The tuition is $37.50 a term. Burdett College students succeed because they are practically trained, and the business atmosphere at this institution is an education in itself. The demand for Burdett graduates is constant from the business firms of Boston and vicinity but as large as the College is it can no longer fill the many applications which come to it for help.

Mr. Sidener had made his first public speech. He waited for his wife's verdict, but she was strangely silent. He had expected her to say, "Oh, it was simply great, Eddy." But they were half-way home, and she had said nothing. "Well," he began awkwardly, "What did you think of my speech?" "What you said was all right," she answered with guarded enthusiasm. "But it seemed to me you didn't make the most of your opportunities." "Opportunities?" repeated Mr. Sidener. "What do you mean, Ethie?" "Why," Mrs. Sidener replied, "you had ever so many chances to sit down before you did."

ABOUT TOWN

At various places along the banks of the Charles river the leaves are beginning to turn to autumn tints, making a most picturesque background for the attractive picture which the many colored craft make almost on any pleasant afternoon.

An unusually large number of Newtonians are planning this season to remain at shore and mountain resorts well into the present month. The September days at nearly all the favorite resorts are as a rule among the best of the year so far as weather conditions are concerned. The resorts have had an unusual amount of disagreeable weather this summer, but the late sojourners are confident that they will be well rewarded by remaining through the present month.

It is thought that if Bryan cuts much ice this winter the price will be lower next summer.

Base Ball.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. defeated the Page Class aggregation of Cambridge in a close contest, 8 to 7, on the Cabot park diamond, Monday forenoon. The game attracted many spectators. The superior work of Newton's battery, Nelson and Bartley, won out. Newton made six hits and five errors. The visitors made eight hits and but four errors. The battery for Page Class was Martin, Bond, Porter and Drake.

Held for Grand Jury

Charged with the larceny of $140 from Mrs. William Ardino, with whom he boarded at 65 Langley road, Newton Centre, Rocci Simeone, 30 years old, was Tuesday afternoon held in the police court for the grand jury, probable cause being found.

Mrs. Ardino alleged that Simeone stole the money from her pocketbook several days previously when she had gone down cellar for a few moments.

Nonantum Threw 209 Feet

In the firemen's muster held at Waltham, Monday, the Nonantum tub of this city threw a stream 209 feet, 6 3/8 inches, but failed to land a prize. The first prize was won by the Red Jacket tub of Cambridge, who sent a stream 244 feet, 5 inches, having the benefit of a strong wind. The muster was a feature of the sixth annual field day of St. Joseph's C. T. A. society of Waltham, which took place on Central Park. The muster attracted many spectators from this city.

Our neighboring town of Watertown is missing an enjoyable feature of municipal life through the stupidity of its church sextons, or the wilfulness of its church committees. We refer to the clanging of church bells while the melodious chimes are ringing on the Methodist church. It would seem as if some arrangement might be made by which the melody of the chimes might be enjoyed to the utmost.

The gypsy moth has invaded Newton and the easterly section of the city adjoining Boston, has thousands of the nests on each tree and wall. While immediate action is not required to destroy these nests, it is important that the overzealous citizen should be informed that any action, other than the painting with creosote will not destroy the pest. One such person has written the street commissioner with bitter complaint over the apparent neglect to get to work, and states that he has personally scraped the nests off his own trees. Such a method does not prevent the eggs from hatching and it is far better to allow the nests to remain in sight where the city men can later reach them easily with the creosote. The city authorities have the matter in mind and will soon be at work. In the mean time good work can be done by individuals by notifying the street department of the various streets where the nests can be found.

STOCK MOVED OUT

Tired of conducting business without realizing much profit Jacob Sarden went to the store at 247 Washington street, Nonantum square, early yesterday morning, and unceremoniously started to move out the fixtures and stock unknown to his partner, Abraham Luff.

As Patrolman Dow of division 3 was passing through Nonantum square about 2 A. M. he was surprised to see goods being loaded from the little store into an express wagon. Going to the store he found two men inside. One of them told the policeman he had the power of an attorney and was legally taking possession of the goods. Unable to secure much satisfaction in the way of further explanation, the patrolman communicated with Lieut. Harrison at headquarters. As a result patrolman Sylvester Burke of division 4 was sent to the house of Abraham Luff, one of the partners, on West street, Nonantum.

Luff was equally surprised to learn that his stock was diminishing more rapidly than at any time since he had been in business. Throwing on a few clothes he hurried back to Nonantum square.

According to the story told Luff found his partner, Sarden, had come to the store about midnight and packed up a large amount of the goods and fixtures and was having them loaded into the wagon. Luff asserted that Sarden had no right to take out the stock without his consent.

The two shoe dealers and the two policemen were unable to straighten out the tangle. Luff finally went down to the house of P. Sarsfield Cumfitt, a Watertown lawyer, and woke him up. Cumfitt advised the Armenian to see Francis W. Sprague, 2nd, clerk of the Newton police court. A trip was then made to clerk Sprague's house on Chestnut street, West Newton. He in turn told the man to see Sheriff Samuel W. Tucker. Back the man went to Newton and woke up Sheriff Tucker, who lives on Church street. The sheriff said he might be able to do something to stop the mix-up if Luff could find the name of some one of his creditors.

Back to the store hastened Luff. Searching the books of the firm the shoe dealer found that $200 was owed the Atlas Shoe company of Boston for goods. Sheriff Tucker, it is said, then issued a writ of attachment and took possession of the stock.

The goods that Sarden had moved out were unloaded and carried back into the store.

Sarden says that when he and Luff entered into business late last spring he put in $500 in cash against Luff's experience. Business did not prove particularly brisk and he became discouraged at the outlook. Deciding to pull out of the firm he came soon after midnight and started to remove what he considered his share of the stock. This work proceeded merrily until he was interrupted by Patrolman Dow.

Alexander Kelly, a Newton lawyer who made out the partnership papers, was hunted up. It was found, it is stated, that by the agreement both men signed there was to be no dissolving of the partnership for six months except by mutual consent. The men, it is said, had been in partnership about four months.

When the other merchants in Nonantum square opened up their places of business in the morning they were astonished to find the little shoe store looking like an express office. Boxes of boots, shoes and slippers were eased up and some of the shelves were down.

Both partners, considerably excited, had interesting comments to make over the experience of the night. Both Sarden and Luff, it is stated, have engaged counsel and as a result there will soon be one of the most interesting civil cases in the Newton court which will have been heard here for many months.

ALEXANDER BROWN DEAD

Mr. Alexander Brown, aged 43 years, died about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at Auburndale Inn, a well-known hostelry which he had conducted for several years. Death was due to heart trouble from which he had suffered for about a year.

Previous to taking charge of the inn five years ago Mr. Brown was for 10 years superintendent of the B. A. A., the occupancy of which position gained him a wide acquaintance among club men throughout the country.

Mr. Brown was a member of Germania lodge, A. F. & A. M. and Aleppo temple, Mystic Shriners. He is survived by a wife, three brothers and one sister.

The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at the inn. An impressive Masonic service was conducted by German lodge, a large number of the members of that well known Boston organization turning out to pay last tributes to Mr. Brown. A delegation escorted the remains to the Forest Hills cemetery, where the burial took place.

There were many handsome floral offerings from lodge members, former business associates and well known clubmen.

SCHOOL BOARD

A meeting of the school committee was held Wednesday evening. In the absence of Chairman Gorham, Capt. Howard presided.

Those present were Albert P. Carter, Frederick H. Tucker, Abbot Bassett, S. E. Howard, H. E. Wells, Cora S. Cobb, Herbert Stebbins and J. L. Caverly.

Estimates of the appropriations required for 1907 amounting to $262,805, were laid over until the next meeting.

Leave of absence for a year was granted May C. Bascom of the Horace Mann school; the resignation of Helen M. Westgate of the Clafin school was accepted, and these teachers appointed for one year—Grace E. Perry, Roger Walcott school and Agnes E. Sanborn of the Clafin school.

The board of aldermen were requested to appropriate $500 for an evening school at the Upper Falls.

In order to relieve the over crowding at the Bigelow school, it was voted that children of the 4th grade in the Lincoln district living on or west of Jewett street, should attend the Eliot school if conditions required it.

In a recent article on "The Factory Beautiful" the Boston Transcript has the following to say about the Dennison plant at South Framingham, of which Mr. Chas. S. Dennison of Newtonville is the treasurer.

"An excellent example of what may be done, without extravagance, but with thorough and careful planning, is to be found at the South Framingham factories of the Dennison Manufacturing Company. The first steps in factory improvement, says Mr. Dennison, should be the furnishing of an abundance of light and of fresh air to the interior. After that comes absolute cleanliness which, incidentally, is the best fire insurance one can have. These things will of themselves tend to the improvement of the exterior appearance. More light means more windows more symmetrically arranged, and more fresh air means open spaces and ventilators, while cleanliness is a great contribution to appearance. Between the buildings of the plant at South Framingham are well rolled and broad walks, often grass-edged, while between the factories and the railroad stretches a lawn five hundred feet long and some thirty feet wide, which is not only kept in perfect order but is ornamented with flowering plants and shrubs and bordered with trees. A pretty triangular plot in front of the offices contains a circular pond filled with lotus and stocked with goldfish, and the corners and borders of the piece are artistically planted with shrubs and flowers. In all there is nearly an acre of lawns and gardens, all in the best of condition.

"The walls of the buildings, which are mostly of brick, are, in many places, covered with ivy. Although the name of the plant is made distinctly visible, advertising features are kept in the background, and Mr. Dennison declares that the primary consideration in the adoption of the improvement policy is not advertising, but the enjoyment and pride of the employees. In this line it may be noted that they have never suffered in the least degree from hoodlumism in any of their gardens. A hothouse has been erected for the keeping of a portion of the plants over winter. In addition to this two or three hundred dollars' worth of new plants are purchased annually and from two to three men employed in their care. The company feels itself amply repaid for the expenditure."

A good story is told of Bishop Donahue of Wheeling, W. Va. Several years ago, when bicycling was all the rage, the bishop attempted to learn. Of course, mishaps followed. Some days later a friend, who had seen the bishop performing feats on a wheel asked, "Bishop, do you wheel now?" "Certainly," replied the witty dignitary. "I am Bishop of Wheeling."—Sacred Heart Review.

THEATRES

Keith's Theatre—The principal feature at Keith's for the week beginning next Monday, September 10th, will be Harndin's Electrical Ballet, "Starlight". This is without question the most ambitious effort in the way of a production for the vaudeville stage that has ever been attempted in this country. It is no experiment, at that, for the paraphernalia to be used is modelled after that which made the production famous in Paris, London, Vienna and Berlin. Some idea of the elaborateness of "Starlight" may be gained from the fact that over fifty people are required to present it, thirty of them being dancers, while the other twenty are needed to handle the effects. For the second week of their engagement Cressy and Dayne are to appear in "The Village Lawyer," one of Mr. Cressy's drollest skits. Proof of the esteem in which they are held by the patrons of Keith's has been shown the past week by the warmth of their reception at every performance. Berzack's Circus is the only other act to hold-over. It is certainly the most entertaining of all animal acts. Ed Reynard has won the name of being the best of the American ventriloquist entertainers. He always has some new bits that are interesting. Avery and Hart, who have succeeded to Williams and Walker's place in vaudeville; Max Witt's "Singing Colloids," four pretty girls who carol "comeallers"; Mabelle Adams, character violinist; William Morrow and Miss Schellberg, two newcomers on the Keith Circuit who have "made good" most emphatically wherever they have appeared; Willie Weston, a very clever young mimic; Pongo and Leo, in an aerial comedy act; Texarkana and Walby, remarkably nimble dancers; Zara and Stetson, baton jugglers; Rado and Bertram, comedy sketchists, and the Kinetograph will complete the program for the week.

Grand Opera House—The Russell Brothers, James and John, who for many years were well known on the vaudeville stage as the "Irish Servant Girls" return to the Boston Grand Opera House next week, to play their annual engagement. They will again be seen in their last season's success, "The Great Jewel Mystery." Of course, as the title suggests it is a detective story, and the Russell Brothers, who play Nolan and Dolan, are the sleuths, their strenuous work keeps the audience in a perpetual state of excitement from beginning to end of the drama, and their impersonation of the Irish Chambermaid is well known to be a wonderful example of character acting. Matinees will be given Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Tremont Theatre—"Arms and the Man," the Bernard Shaw play in which Arnold Daly and his company are to open their engagement at the Tremont on Monday, Sept. 10th (Mr. Daly appearing in the character of Capt. Bluntschli), is one of Shaw's first dramatic writings and one of the most brilliant works, if indeed, not the most brilliant, of the great Irish genius. It was first produced by the Independent Theatre Society in London, and eleven years ago was given its initial American production by Richard Mansfield at the Fifth Avenue Theatre in New York. Its most notable features are unique comedy situations, witty dialogue, and distinct character types. "Arms and the Man" is among the pleasant plays in Shaw's remarkable volume, "Plays Pleasant and Unpleasant." The scenes are laid in a Bulgarian town during the war between Bulgaria and Serbia, and the story concerns the love of the beautiful daughter (Raina Petkoff, played by Chrystal Herne) of a Bulgarian army officer for Captain Bluntschli (Mr. Daly) of the Serbian service. The author's witty lines, his merry characters, his humorous situations—his whole plot and plan in "Arms and the Man"—do more towards dispelling the popular impression that the play is far too heavy and deep in thought for the masses than any other work of this master word-painter; for it is the merriest of comedy throughout.

Bijou Theatre—The second week of Mr. John Craig's engagement at the Bijou Theatre will be devoted to a revival of "The Last Word," which was given a splendid performance by Mr. Craig and his company some weeks ago at the Globe Theatre. The play is revived in response to an urgent call for it was one of the most popular pieces done during Mr. Craig's summer season. "The Last Word" is one of the several adaptations which the late Augustine Daly made from the German and in the old days of the Daly regime it's brilliancy of dialogue and entertaining story proved a strong attraction for theatregoers. Its two leading characters, Harry Rutherford and Baroness Vera, were parts which gave John Drew and Ada Rehan considerable prominence when these stars were making their professional reputations; and when they lately were played by Mr. Craig and Mary Young both these popular players made the most pronounced kind of a hit. To Mr. Craig's many friends it will come as unhappy news that this will be the last of his engagement at the Bijou Theatre. While the house has much to recommend it as a place for entertainment, Mr. Craig finds that the stage facilities are not such as will allow him to put on his plays in the same elaborate manner which was so characteristic a feature of his late summer season. Mr. Craig, however, may have some interesting announcement to make in the near future.

Norumbega Park—The season at Norumbega Park does not close at the end of Labor Day week as so many summer amusement resorts do but following the usual custom that has been found to be so popular it will remain open for two more weeks, closing on Sunday, September 23rd. The attendance records of the past two seasons have shown this keeping open well into September to be a wise decision for patrons never seem to tire of the quiet enjoyments of this woodland resort on the winding Charles. These cool fall days are ideal ones for boating and canoeing and each day finds large crowds enjoying the unlimited service for which the Norumbega boathouse is justly famous. The naphtha launches at the new landing on the north slope are also well patronized for trips of half an hour up the river for a more extensive view of the banks and overhanging shrubbery than can be obtained from the park. The vaudeville programmes in the grand covered open air theatre are kept up to the excellence of the midsummer performances and these will be continued for the next two weeks. The souvenir postal card fad is prevalent everywhere and Norumbega is no exception for now there are on sale in the park postal cards of fifteen of the most interesting and charming views that were specially prepared for this resort in Germany.

Keith's Theatre has just issued a neat little brochure about the Fadettes, the splendid musical orchestra of women which has been the summer feature at that attractive theatre for the past five seasons. There is an interesting description of the organization and history of the orchestra, beginning with a membership of six in 1888 to the present successful season with 40 players. The book is illustrated with some good cuts and is a most interesting souvenir to the thousands who have enjoyed the Fadette music.

Jewelry and Money Stolen

John F. Gilmore, aged 18, living at 61 West street, Nonantum, was arraigned in court Wednesday on the charge of breaking and entering the house of Jacob Kligman, Sunday evening, and stealing a bracelet, three rings, a pin and $19.40 in money. Gilmore asserted someone else went into the house with him and took the articles. Gilmore had been arrested before here for larceny and Assistant Justice Copeland sent him to the Concord reformatory.

The New England Conservatory of Music

Prospective students are reminded that the fifty-fourth year of the New England Conservatory of Music begins on September 20th, and the office opens for registration on September 13th. With its fine building and superior equipment, the worth of a course at this institution is of inestimable value to those who desire to make the study of music a life work, for here is centered everything which tends to the perfection in every detail of a musical education, and nothing is spared in cultivating the talents of the students individually. The privileges of lectures, concerts and recitals, the opportunities of ensemble practice and appearing before audiences, and the daily associations here offered, are invaluable to the music student, and are such as are enjoyed only in a school of the scope of the New England Conservatory—in the recognized music center of the country. Success founded upon true merit is certain to have an influence for all time, and is exemplified in the growth and progress of the New England Conservatory of Music.

It is said that Burdett College of Business and Shorthand, 18 Boylston Street, Boston, leads because it deserves to lead. The School opened this week with an entering class so large that the management of the College has reason to feel proud. Students can begin work at Burdett College any Monday morning.

Newton Man a Winner

Mr. Henry W. Jarvis of Charlesbank road and Miss Isabel Ludlam of Chicago were the winners of the mixed doubles in the Jefferson Highlands tennis tournament played several days ago on the Mt. Adams House courts at that popular New Hampshire resort. The rounds were played as follows:

First Round—H. W. Jarvis and Miss Ludlam defeated Dr. Armstrong and Miss Birdsey, 6-3, 7-5.
A. Morris Carey and Mrs. Carey defeated Rev. W. Bradbury and Miss Brigham, 12-10, 6-0.
Wm. Restwick and Miss Restwick defeated C. H. Heidgerd, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.
Second Round—H. W. Jarvis and Miss Ludlam defeated Wm. Restwick and Miss Restwick, 6-4, 6-3.
Final Round—H. W. Jarvis and Miss Ludlam defeated A. Morris Carey and Mrs. Carey, 2-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Danger Ahead

The Gipsy moth has certainly established itself in Newton. Few are aware of the dreadful destruction that this pest can cause to shade and other trees. You can observe on the trunks and lower branches of the trees along Cabot, Centre, and other streets, nests about 1 1/2 inch long of a brownish color, each containing from 50 to 500 eggs.

These will hatch out in the spring. Care should be taken by the inexperienced not to remove these nests now. To rub them off the trees, stones, or wherever they are lodged, without being first destroyed, does not kill them but only makes the exterminating of them the more difficult, for they will hatch next spring just the same as if the nests had never been molested.

The nests ought to be thoroughly saturated with creosote which will destroy the eggs. Suppose the Gipsy was allowed to go unchecked for the next 3 years; it would be an easy matter to prophesy that Newton would be as leafless in summer as it is in winter. To strip a tree of its foliage in midsummer weakens the root action; therefore to deprive a tree of its foliage for a few years in succession, means certain death to the tree. This is exactly what the Gipsy does. A suggestion to the city fathers. Let each police station keep a supply of creosote on hand so that it might easily be obtained by citizens at cost, to destroy this terrible pest.

Literary Notes

RECREATION FOR SEPTEMBER.

The article of most general appeal, perhaps is The Nomads of Romany, by Jessie Parton Tyree, being a story of a visit to a gypsy encampment, ably setting forth the peculiarities of this remarkable wandering people, and explaining their strange manners and customs. When You Went to the Fair, by Roscoe Brumbaugh, gives a sympathetic portrayal of the attractions and distractions of a typical county fair, as looked back upon by the boy born and brought up on the farm. Cruising the Fjords of the North Pacific, by D. W. and A. S. Iddings, tells of a trip from Vancouver into the great icy stretches of Bering Sea, for a return cruise in a small boat. Walking after Lew Chapin, by Ernest McGaffey, is a very amusing recital of how a locally famous chicken hunter, with the reputation of wearing out every one who dared go a-hunting with him, had the tables neatly turned on him by a professional pedestrian, in the guise of an ordinary "city chap," who walked the redoubtable Lew to a standstill, to the extreme delight of his neighbors and former victims. Of particular interest to sportsmen will be found the article by Edwyn Sandys on Some Aquatic Quail, describing an ingenious method by which the author bagged a lot of the elusive Bob Whites. Other articles of particular interest to sportsmen are Sport in Squirrel-Shooting, by Ernest Cave; High Hook at Avalon, by F. L. Harding; A Hit and a Miss, by Harry L. Means; Bradley from Baggs, by Edward Cave; The Vanishing Prairie Hen, by Clate Tinar; The First-Rate Quail dog, by J. A. Rutherford; The Art of Camping, by Charles A. Bramble, and Hunting California Blue Quail, by W. L. Burke. The illustrations throughout are interesting and clear cut, the frontispiece being a remarkable photograph of a buffalo, caught in the act of bursting his way through the side of a freight car.

Miss Bessie Lancaster, a beautiful young woman, who is editor and publisher of a weekly newspaper published at Butler, S. D., does not lay awake nights worrying over the question of union or non-union labor. The question has no terrors for her.

This is because the love sick young swains of Butler perform all the manual labor about her printing office in hope of winning a smile from the fair editor. The young men living in the town and surrounding country, under the inspiration of her sparkling eyes, are all learning to "set" type.

When the stools along the type cases are all filled with young men, other young men fill in time by folding papers or pumping the job press. Miss Lancaster has only to sit at her desk and look wise.

It is said that every five minutes or so Uncle Potter or some other prominent citizen rings up the office over the telephone and gives the handsome young newspaper woman a string of locals. Thus she also has a number of unpaid reporters on her staff, and finds it unnecessary to travel over the town for the purpose of gathering local news.

To the Editor of the Sun—Sir: Will The Sun please find a satisfactory answer to the following proposition and print it, or several prominent citizens of this neighborhood will go into spasms or the lunatic asylum? This is how it goes: A man with a ten dollar bill in his pocket had pressing need for $15. He took his bill to a pawnbroker and got the ticket and $7.50 on it. He then sold the ticket to a friend for $7.50, which gave him the needed $15. The friend took the ticket to the pawnbroker, paid the $7.50 and got the ten dollar bill. Now who paid the five dollars the first man got? Jack.—N. Y. Sun.

Foss for Lieut.-Governor

Newton people have good reason to be interested in the campaign which Mr. Eugene N. Foss is now making for the Republican nomination for lieutenant-governor. Mr. Foss is a trustee of the Newton Theological Institution at Newton Centre and has recently showed his great interest in that direction by a gift of $10,000. Such practical interest in religious matters is rare enough to focus public attention when the facts are known. Active efforts will be made in his interests during the next few weeks by prominent gentlemen of Newton and lists of delegates will be filed in every ward.

Mr. Foss has taken a leading part in the reciprocity movement not because of any personal political ambition but that he might impress upon the people the necessity of legislation which will bring about better business conditions for New England. He believes the time has come for business men to enter politics in order that their interests may be protected. He is a life-long Republican, and his sole desire in the present contest is to suggest to his party the advisability of reaffirming the principle of commercial reciprocity with which the party has been identified in the past. The efforts of Mr. Foss have been exerted chiefly in the direction of reciprocity with Canada.

Mr. Foss speaks with the authority of a man of very large business interests. As treasurer of the B. F. Sturtevant Company of Boston and head of the Becker-Brainard Milling Machine Company of Hyde Park, Mr. Foss employs nearly 1500 persons. Mr. Foss is interested in other enterprises as follows:

Director—Massachusetts Electric Companies, Manhattan Railway Co. of New York, Mexican Central Railway Co., Chicago Stock Yards Company, Soule Cotton Mills of New Bedford, First National Bank, American Loan & Trust Co.

Trustee—Newton Theological Institution, Colby College, Hebron Academy, Vermont Academy, Moody School at Northfield, Robert B. Brigham Hospital for Incurables, Boston Baptist Hospital, Boston Y. M. C. A.

Stockholder—Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R., Boston & Maine, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, and other standard railway properties.

Member—Boston Merchants Association (director), Boston Chamber of Commerce, New England Shoe & Leather Association, Vermont Association, Beacon Society, New Algonquin, Boston Art, Exchange, Jamaica Clubs, etc.

—Rev. Charles S. Brooks of Wellesley occupied the pulpit of the Congregational church last Sunday. The Friendly Class was led by Mr. Arthur W. Kelly.

—Mr. Charles W. Hubbard has returned to his residence at Weston after passing most of the summer at Isle-Haute, Me. His family will remain at that popular resort for a few more weeks.

—At the Williams & Everett galleries on Boylston street, Boston, is on exhibition the portrait of Mrs. Alice Gordon Gulek painted by Miss Grace Woodbridge Cier. It is a gift from Mt. Holyoke College to the Alice Gordon Gulek Memorial College in Madrid and will shortly be shipped to Spain.

—Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Francis E. Clark of Central street have been at Sagamore Beach the past week, where they attended the First Christian Endeavor Assembly. Rev. Dr. Clark gave an interesting address on "New Ideas in Christian Endeavor" and Mrs. Clark related some unique experiences while travelling in foreign lands.

—There were short funeral services for Eliot W. B. Dummer, son of Edward Dummer, who died at the age of 26 years, at the family home, yesterday morning. The remains were taken to Lowell for burial. Mr. Dummer had been employed in Boston as a clerk and was well known to the young people about Auburndale.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

Much Business At First Meeting After Vacation

Election Officers Appointed—Many Hearings—$5000 Voted For Moth Work

The first meeting of the aldermen after the summer vacation was held at City hall on Monday evening. President Carter was in the chair and all the members were present except Aldermen Bowen, Hall and Webster.

There were many hearings on all kinds of matters. General Manager M. C. Brush of the Newton Street Railway Company favored the petition of his road to locate an additional crossover in Nonantum sq. Mr. Brush said that the present crossover was so near the end of the line that in the heavy travel cars were obliged to land their passengers near the Bank Building. The new crossover would greatly facilitate the handling of the traffic and prove a convenience to the travelling public. Mr. Brush said the Company would also like to keep the present crossover.

Mr. Brush appeared also for the Norumbega Park Company on its petition for license to keep and sell gasoline. He said that the company had had special tanks constructed for storage and used the gasoline to supply its automobile custom and its river launches.

Mr. E. H. Tilton spoke in favor of concrete sidewalks on Gibbs street under the betterment act saying that there were 12 families who used this street constantly. The sidewalk was hilly and in rainy weather, muddy. Mr. John E. Dudley, who owned 350 feet of abutting land strongly objected to the expense and said it was much nearer for these people to use Everett street. He had noticed that 90 per cent of the travel on Gibbs street was on the other side from where it was proposed to lay the sidewalk. He said he paid heavy taxes and did not care to have anything added to them. Mr. Tilton in rebuttal said that Gibbs street was nearer than Everett street and that the travel was on the westerly side of the street.

At the hearing on taking land in Champa avenue for sewer purposes Mr. John W. Martin said he was building a house and wanted the sewer within 2 months. He understood that there was no drainage from the neighboring cesspools and the overflow constituted a menace to health. Mr. John B. Sullivan said that the cesspools had bothered the residents for a year and a half and required cleaning once a month. There was no opposition.

No one appeared at the hearings on petition of N. L. Grant to sell gasoline at 206 Melrose street: of the Telephone Company to locate 3 poles on Needham street: and on the proposed discontinuance of slopes on Church street.

Mayor Warren submitted the following list of election officers and they were unanimously confirmed:—

There is one school in Boston where students learn business by Actual Business Practice. We refer to Burdett College at 18 Boylston Street. This institution attracts a great body of students to its departments of Shorthand, Touch Typewriting, Bookkeeping and Banking, because it stands for the methods of 1906. The demand from business men for Burdett graduates is far in excess of the supply. Students can enter the School any Monday morning.

In another column we print an interesting letter from Col. Benton of Belmont regarding the recent allotment of representatives in Middlesex County. We sympathize somewhat with the Colonel in his grievance, but utterly fail to see why he should criticize the Newton apportionment when there are so many other cases of discrimination much more glaring. It is true that Newton is 721 short of the average for 3 representatives, but that fact simply offsets the 1860 apportionment when we were over 1000 the average. In addition Newton has heavy interests at the state house in metropolitan and state affairs, which we are inclined to believe are larger than those of Belmont. Newton's claim for three representatives is admitted by everyone conversant with the subject and the genial Colonel simply shows his ignorance of the true situation in attacking the Newton allotment. The Colonel ignores the Cambridge situation, where the city is 739 short of the average for 8 representatives, the Somerville district which is only 1230 short of the average for three, the Lowell district which is 789 short, and the Ashland district which is 747 shy of the average. With these cases open to all who might look, we fail to understand why the irate Colonel should focus his wrath on the Newton allotment. We are sorry that the good work done in behalf of Newton is displeasing to our neighbors but they can console themselves with the fact that the men who will represent this city at the State House will be above district lines and can be depended upon to give Belmont, Watertown, the metropolitan district and the Commonwealth, faithful and intelligent service.

While the total appropriation for moth work is piling up it should be remembered that a substantial part of the money expended will be returned by the tax on private owners and by the state. It is evident, however, that the work must be done, regardless of expense, if we are to retain our beautiful trees and the delightful appearance of our city.

Mayor Warren follows the custom of inviting the aldermen to inspect the various buildings and works which was established last year. The idea is an excellent one and enables the aldermen to more intelligently scan the estimates of expenses for 1907 soon to come.

It is a good joke on Ward 5 republicans that they should deem it necessary to pledge their councillor ticket to their fellow citizen, Mr. Seward W. Jones. The other councillor delegations will deem it an honor to support Mr. Jones without being pledged.

It is something of a novelty in Newton politics to have a contest over the state delegations. It ought to bring out a larger vote than has been the case in the past, and a larger vote is a good thing for the party.

Real Estate

Alvord Bros. & Co. have sold to J. E. Searing, a lot of land on Harvard Street, Newtonville, adjoining property which they also sold him in the spring. The lot consists of about 10,000 feet and was conveyed by the Shaw estate.

Alvord Bros. & Co. have leased 47 Oxford road, Newton Centre, for Mrs. M. E. Cumming with W. G. Smith. They have also rented in Newtonville, Higgins and Nickerson's house at 159 Lowell Ave., to Carl M. Wheaton. They have rented Charles H. Dow's house at 88 Harvard Street, Newtonville, to Mr. Thompson, the Newtonville electrician.

Through the office of Turner & Williams, Mark C. Meagher has sold the two family house and 3500 feet of land numbered 278 and 280 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, to Catherine C. Pilon who bought for investment. The property is assessed for $3200 of which $2700 is on the house.

Political Notes

Congressman Weeks will be one of the speakers at the Middlesex Club meeting tomorrow at the Riding and Driving Club, Watertown.

The Republican councillor committee of the sixth district organized yesterday with the choice of William F. Garcelon of Newton as chairman. Mr. Seward W. Jones was endorsed for the nomination.

Mr. Oliver M. Fisher, whose name has been mentioned as a candidate for the nomination for representative did not file papers, the following letter explaining his position having been received by Chairman Hatfield of the City Committee.

Newton, Mass., September 10, 1906.
Mr. Chas. E. Hatfield,
Chairman Republican Ward and City Committee,
Newton, Mass.

Dear Sir:—
As you well know, many friends throughout the city have been kind enough to put forward my name as one of the Republican Candidates for the Legislature this fall.

I am not insensible to the honor which this implies and thank my friends for their cordial support; nevertheless I feel that my name coming before the caucus at this time would not be for the best interests of those who have and can serve the city in this capacity better than I.

Through you therefore I desire to withdraw my name from the list of candidates at this time and extend thanks to you and others for their kind support.

Cordially yours,
Signed: Oliver M. Fisher.

RECENT DEATHS

Miss Ellen Whittlesey

A telegram from Battle Creek, Michigan, states that Miss Ellen Whittlesey died on Monday, Sept. 10th. To older residents of the city especially in Auburndale, where she formerly lived, her name will recall a life, not of great bodily vigor, but strong in Christian character, lovable, tender, gifted and true. As a teacher of music she was an inspiration to her pupils, in whose after life she retained a most fond and responsive interest. To a comparatively recent date she had in a measure continued her work. Her voice was heard for many years in the choir of the First Church, Newton Centre, and always with the greatest satisfaction. In her own home or that of her intimate friends the charming rendering of songs was a constant delight, but how rapidly are the scenes of life shifted. The evening of her days came on apace and with it infirmities of body and mind more acute. Loving hearts and hands watched over her till the shadows deepened, and the song of welcoming voices greeted her in the Heavenly home for which her long-sung soul had craved.

Mrs. Billings

Mrs. Evelyn G. Billings wife of Mr. Samuel K. Billings passed away at her home on Walnut street last Tuesday after a long illness. She was a native of Oxford, Me., and was 41 years of age. Her husband and one son survive her. Funeral services were held from the house Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. T. Stocking officiating and there was a large attendance of relatives and friends. There was a profusion of floral tributes and favorite selections of the deceased were rendered by the Beethoven quartette. The interment was in Newton Cemetery.

Mr. McIntosh

Mr. Allan McIntosh passed away at his home on Marshall street Thursday, after a long period of failing health, aged 67 years. He was a contractor by occupation. A widow and several children survive him. Funeral services will be held from the house Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Paxton

Mrs. Rose Paxton, the wife of Mr. James Paxton, the well known caterer, died at her home on Elmwood street, Newton, yesterday noon, at the age of 65 years. Mrs. Paxton had been failing in health for the last year, and the end was not unexpected. Mrs. Paxton was born in Catskill, N. Y., but had lived in Boston and Newton for nearly her whole life, her residence here being over thirty years. She is survived by her husband and one son, Mr. William M. Paxton, the artist. Funeral services will be held from her late residence Elmwood street tomorrow afternoon at two.

Mrs. Boyle

Miss Catherine Boyle who died at her home on Clinton place Thursday of last week in her 75th year, was for over 50 years in the employ of the Colby family. She was a native of Ireland. The funeral was held Saturday and the remains were taken to Boston and were interred in the New Calvary Cemetery.

Mrs. Manning

Mrs. Ann Manning, widow of Michael Manning and a resident of Newton for 60 years, passed away at her home on Adams avenue Sunday after a long period of failing health. She was 75 years of age. A family survive her. Requiem Mass was celebrated at St. Bernard's church Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. L. J. O'Toole officiating and the burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

A FAMOUS OLD SCHOOL

Chauncy Hall School Now in Its 78th Year—Specially Noted for Thorough Scientific Training.

Since the establishment at Chauncy Place in 1828 by Gideon F. Thayer, Chauncy Hall School of Boston, has grown steadily in reputation and public esteem. It has been remarkably fortunate in undergoing but few changes of management.

As one of the oldest private schools of New England, Chauncy Hall has a name, a history, a method to maintain and to give its graduates, who are to be found in every part of the country, holding positions of trust and honor.

Chauncy Hall is especially noted for its scientific courses, being credited at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology with the preparation of more pupils for that institution than any other private school in the country.

Heretofore, a few young women have been admitted, but this year, after full consideration, the school has decided to confine itself exclusively to young men.

The school has a convenient location, at the corner of Boylston and Berkeley Streets, and opposite the main building of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A pretty affair of the early autumn season was the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. George Marcus Bridges at their home on Walnut street last Monday evening to observe the tenth anniversary of their marriage. The parlors, dining room and hall were beautifully decorated with palms, asters and asparagus fern. The host and hostess received informally from 8 to 11 and a large number of friends were present. An orchestra provided a musical program during the evening and refreshments were served in the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Bridges are enjoying an anniversary trip to Canada and the White Mountains.

CLAFIN GUARD NOTES.

Last Monday night "School commenced" for the Clafin Guard, there was a large attendance and the spirit and dash put into the drill argued well for a most successful term through the winter months.

Since the return home Sergt. Greene has contracted typhoid malaria and confined in the hospital for a few days. At the Regimental "Shoot" held on Labor Day at Wakefield the "Clafins" made a fine showing and by making over one hundred points more than last year showed that they are still on the "mend."

Many of the boys are receiving mail nowadays with the Canadian postmark which might imply that there were "pleasant memories left behind."

Massachusetts showed what her militia could do in the way of shooting by carrying off forty three of the prizes, at the recent National Shoot held at Sea Girt, New Jersey.

1st Sergt. Muldoon is enjoying a brief vacation at Gardner, Mass. Sergt. Muldoon is entitled to a little extra vacation in consideration of the fact that he handled the company in a most creditable manner on the recent trip.

Chauffeur Discharged

The case of John G. Wilson, chauffeur for Mrs. E. L. Wait of Newton, charged with running his automobile at a speed greater than was reasonable with regard to the safety of the public, came on for hearing at Barnstable, Wednesday, before Special Justice Paine.

Mr. Wilson was running a six-cylinder National car, on Labor Day, having in the car with him, five ladies and two gentlemen.

At an exhaustive hearing, the officers testified that by a stop-watch, the machine was travelling at the rate of eighteen miles an hour. This was controverted by the defendant, whose car was equipped with a Speedometer. He testified, and his testimony was corroborated by those in the car, that he had been warned twice that a trap was laid ahead in the village of Sandwich, and that immediately upon passing the sign board regulating the speed at fifteen miles per hour, he slowed down his machine, and kept it running between ten and fifteen miles an hour until he stopped.

Judge Paine found that the speed at which the auto was running was not unreasonable in view of the condition existing at this place, and also in view of the uncertainty in regard to the speed found the defendant not guilty and ordered his discharge.

FitzGerald--Blake

In the presence of only about a dozen members of the immediate families the wedding of Miss Agnes Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Blake of Weston, Mass., and Stephen S. FitzGerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Desmond FitzGerald of Brookline, Mass., took place Sunday afternoon at Saranac Lake, N. Y.

The announcement of the wedding of this well known society couple will come as a great surprise to many of their friends in Brookline, Newton and Boston, who had been looking forward to a brilliant October wedding at the magnificent home of the bride's parents, "Keewaydin," near Auburndale.

The change in the wedding arrangements was made suddenly, and it is stated that it is due to business plans of the groom which called for haste in the nuptials.

The ceremony took place at 2 o'clock in the hotel Amersand on the edge of Saranac Lake. The ceremony was an extremely simple one. Mrs. Harold Blake, a sister-in-law of the bride, was unable to attend, although she was expected here, and remained at her home at Cohasset, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. FitzGerald will leave immediately for a honeymoon in the Adirondacks. Upon their return to Brookline the groom will become a member of the law firm of Foster & Turner of Boston.

The bride is a daughter of Francis Blake of Weston, Mass., the inventor of the Blake telephone transmitter. She is a prominent member of the Vincent club, the exclusive organization of Boston society young women. It is stated that it was while visiting Nora Isagi at her country home, "Clovercroft," at Stockbridge, Mass., that Miss Blake first met Mr. FitzGerald. Miss Blake is an enthusiastic horsewoman.

Mr. FitzGerald is a Harvard man, having been graduated in 1900 from the Harvard law school. He will continue to make his home in Brookline, Mass.

Folsom--Worden

MONMOUTH, ME.—A very happy event to the East Monmouth people was the wedding which occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frost, Thursday evening Aug. 23rd. The contracting parties were Daniel Willard Folsom of Auburn, Me., and Miss Mary Carlisle Worden of Newton, Mass. Mr. Folsom was born and brought up in East Monmouth and has many friends to greet him over this happy event.

Miss Worden has been a teacher in Watertown, Mass., and has spent her summer vacation at East Monmouth for several years. She has made herself beloved by all the people by her sympathetic and genial spirit, and it is a cause of rejoicing on every hand that she is now to belong to them as Mr. and Mrs. Folsom are planning to make their home at East Monmouth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. W. Wallace pastor of the M. E. church.

Suspension Made Permanent.

Postmaster George H. Morgan Sunday received word from the postmaster general's office that the suspension of William Dawson, clerk-in-charge of the Newton Highlands postal station since March, has been made permanent. Dawson was suspended pending an investigation less than a fortnight ago because of irregularities in his accounts. The deficiencies amounted to about $180, and Dawson immediately turned over to Postmaster Morgan sufficient money to cover the shortage.

It was believed that the irregularities were due more to carelessness than anything else. For this reason the result of the investigation conducted by inspector David C. Owens was awaited with no little interest by Dawson's many friends in this city.

Dawson had been clerk-in-charge of the Highlands office since March, when he succeeded Capt. Edgar N. Nash, who retired after many years' service. Previous to that he was in charge of the Newton Upper Falls office for several years, but first entered the service nine years ago as a clerk in the Newton office.

Alfred S. Pratt, who was transferred from the main office at Newton Centre and temporarily placed in charge of the Highlands office when Dawson was first suspended, will be appointed clerk-in-charge there.

Mr. Pratt is a son of Alfred L. Pratt of Fisher avenue, Newton Highlands. He first entered the postal service as a substitute clerk in 1900. Two years later he was appointed a regular clerk and was stationed at both the Upper Falls and Highlands offices, being assigned to duty half a day in either office. Last March he was promoted to a clerkship in the main office at Newton Centre, and his appointment to clerk-in-charge at the Highlands will come as another promotion. Mr. Pratt was last June married to Miss Mabel Spooner of Joplin, Mo., formerly of this city. He is an efficient employee and is well liked by his fellow employees.

Sunday afternoon Frank Barrasno, 20 years old, living at 20 Moon street, Boston, was arrested at Chestnut Hill, charged with trespass. Residents of that aristocratic suburb say that nearly every Sunday visitors trample their lawns and gardens and steal fruit.

Police Paragraphs.

Shortly before 2 Sunday morning Sergt. Thomas C. Clay and Patrolman James D. Ryan were attracted to Nonantum square by a fight between four young men and two girls. The girls and two of the men were arrested, but two others made their escape.

The prisoners gave their names as Elizabeth Flynn, 17 years old, of 1523 Tremont street, Boston; Margaret Quinn 17, of 18 Phillips street, Roxbury; Walter J. Porter, 29, of Cambridge, and John H. McDonald, 22, of Portsmouth street, Cambridge. The girls were charged with idle and disorderly conduct, and the men were charged with drunkenness. Porter was turned over to the Cambridge police later, they wanting him on a default warrant. It is alleged that he violated the conditions of a probation from the Cambridge court. McDonald was released as the police were convinced that the two men who escaped were responsible to a great degree for the mixup.

The prisoners told the police they had come out from Boston on an early morning car and were on their way to Needham to visit a sister of one of the young men.

The girls said that when they reached this city two other young men, who had followed them out from Boston, appeared on the scene and started to take the girls away from their escorts. An altercation in which it is said they all participated then occurred.

THEATRES

Keith's Theatre—"Have you seen 'Starlight'?" is the question that everybody who has been to Keith's the past week asks their friends. It is not surprising they should do so, for a more beautiful spectacle has never been presented on any stage, while it is immeasurably superior to anything ever before seen in vaudeville, in magnitude as well as beauty. So great is the hit "Starlight" has made, it will be retained as the principal feature of the Keith bill for another week. No comedienne of the day is more popular than magnetic Nora Bayes. Since the time she originally sang "Down Where the Wurzbürger Flows" at Keith's, she has been a great favorite in Boston, and her first appearance in this city since her return from a year's engagement in Europe will be a notable event. The name of Nat Haines is a synonym for wit of a unique sort. His humor is peculiar to himself, and has won him the reputation of being about the most entertaining of all the black-face comedians. Cressy and Dayne are to present "Bill Biffin's Baby", as the third offering of their engagement. Mr. Cressy has yet to write a better sketch. Berthold's Cockatoos, a very interesting trained bird exhibit; the Four Rianos, in their acrobatic novelty, "In Africa"; those able amusement providers, Brown, Harris and Brown; the Four Cartmells, in a capital dancing act; a vocal comedietta by Dudley, Cheslyn and Burns; Charles and Miss Jac Ahearn, in cycling comedy; the farcelet "On the Q. T.", played by Thomas Meegan and Company; whistling solos by May Evans; the Indian magician, Shungopavi; and authentic motion pictures of the Harvard and Cambridge crews at practice on the Thames, will all help to make up a most attractive program. A genuine charity concert for the benefit of the Boston Floating Hospital will be given on Sunday evening, September 23rd.

Grand Opera House—"The Gambler of the West", which is said to raise the limit of sensationalism in the melodrama will be next week's attraction at the Boston Grand Opera House with matinees on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. A famous cowboy band, a real old western stage coach, trained horses and an Indian bowie knife thrower, who pinions the heroine to a tree with knives thrown from a distance of twenty paces are a few of the announced features which give promise of its being the most thrilling show of the season. The scenic novelties include an aurora borealis over a scene of mountain grandeur and a prairie fire that makes the stage appear to be a mass of flames, both of which are accomplished by electrical effects. The thrilling incidents are the adventures of a young girl searching the wilds for a lost eight-year-old brother. A son of her mother's second husband by a former wife convives with Red Mike Clancy, known as Faro Bill, to force her to marry the latter, who is a desperado of the worst stripe, in order to gain possession of her fortune, and pistols, knives, lassos, an attempt to burn her at the stake, a stage hold up, terrible fights, etc., combine to keep audiences thrilled until the curtain falls on the final act when the lost brother is discovered in the person of a supposed small Indian warrior called Little Great Bear and the heroine is united to Luck Jack Gordon, a good hearted gambler who protects her and afterwards leads the straight and narrow path. The thrilling play is garnished with uproarious comedy furnished by Boston Jake and Bridget Farley. A street parade will be given each day of the engagement. "The Gambler of the West" is another in A. H. Woods' long list of great melodramatic successes.

Norumbega Park—If there is one time of the entire season when Norumbega Park can be said to be more attractive than at another it would seem as though it were during these last days of its season. The foliage, floral decorations are seen in their most luxurious growth just before the frost comes and it is a rare treat to be in the midst of such skilful effects in landscape gardening. It is here on the banks of the Charles that the very first autumnal tints begin to appear and there is no more popular time for canoeing than when the sharp air encourages vigorous exertion. Each pleasant day finds hundreds of the enthusiastic followers of this sport moving up and down the river near the park for the Norumbega boat house has the reputation for being the best equipped of any on the Charles. The management has found by experience that it is excellent policy to keep the park open through this month, long after the other outdoor amusement resorts are closed, for some of the largest attendances of the season have been recorded in this month. The coming week the last vaudeville performances in the grand covered open air theatre will be given, but the park will be open to patrons with all the other attractions, still longer. The zoological garden is now at its best for the animals have had the benefit of the fresh air the entire summer and will go into their winter quarters in the very best of condition. The collection here is an unusually extensive one for a private park and is well worth a visit if there were no other attractions.

FOUR REASONS

Why Every Veteran Soldier of the Civil War Should Unite with the Grand Army of the Republic

Charles Ward Post 62 G. A. R. appeals to the eligible veterans, who for various reasons, are not members of the Grand Army of the Republic. Every man who wore the blue from '61 to '65 is depriving himself of a fraternity, that if he once understood, would be to him a joyous and happy thing. Some of the reasons why all veterans should be in the Grand Army of the Republic, I desire to state:

First. There are men who would pay thousands of dollars for the privilege of wearing the Grand Army badge, and yet there are a large number of men in the City of Newton who for the small sum of four dollars per year, could wear them. That badge will be an heirloom in the years to come, in many families.

Second. It has been truly said, "Any veteran who has a right to join the Grand Army of the Republic, and does not do so, may cause his descendants to blush for shame, for when they search the records for their ancestors' service and standing, as the descendants of the Revolution are eagerly doing today, if they do not find his name on our rolls, they will be surprised and distressed for fear that he had been guilty of some crime or misdemeanor that made him ineligible and unfit to associate with the comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic."

Third. The Grand Army of the Republic has numbered in its ranks the heroes of the war, Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Logan, Devens, and all the rest of them, the men who carried the musket that gave these men their fame, and every man who did his duty in the army is entitled to equal credit and ought to feel that he should be associated in citizenship since the war, with his comrades, equally as well as he did in the days when the struggle was on.

Fourth. The end of our lives on earth is drawing near and our memories are all too sacred, our fraternity too holy for any comrade to go down in the valley without it now. Comrade, when you read this, will you not send to the undersigned, requesting an application paper, and at an early date enroll yourself in Post 62 thus bringing yourself into full membership in the greatest fraternity possible to any man today.

Delay not, but act at once.

Wilfred A. Wetherbee, Adjutant Post 62.

NEW YORK CITY EXCURSION

Oct. 3 and 4. B. & N. R. R. and Hudson River Steamers $5.00 Round Trip

October is undoubtedly one of the most enjoyable months of the whole year for a vacation trip. At this season of the year, especially during the early days, the air is brisk and invigorating, and the fields and forests beautified, in their autumnal array, present a gorgeous and gala sight to the tourist who is privileged to view this vista on his journey to the mountains or the country. Nowhere does the splendor of Autumn and the sharp healthful atmosphere of October offer such a combination as in the heights of the Hoosac Mountains and the peaceful valley, bordering the Hoosick and Deerfield Rivers. On Oct. 4 the Boston & Maine R. R. will run its annual excursion to New York City via train and steamer route. The train ride is through the most beautiful section of the Deerfield Valley through the wonderful Hoosick Tunnel, which is alone worth traveling miles to see; winding the beautiful hills of the Berkshires and the towering Hoosac Mountains. Through the farms and valleys of Massachusetts entering New York State by one of its most magnificent gateways, passing through the bustling and busy city of Troy to Albany, N. Y., where we alight. You can enjoy the steamer trip down the Hudson River by searchlight, arriving in New York City the following morning, or you can remain over night, stopping at any one of the magnificent hostleries in the city, and enjoy the trip down the Hudson by daylight. The Hudson River and its near-by neighbors, the Catskill Mountains, possess a variety of charms which have been well heralded. Arriving in New York on the Day Line boat the steamer docks in the evening, besides giving one an opportunity to view the beauty of the Hudson in all its scenic splendor, one can also get an excellent view of New York harbor and the thousand of craft plying back and forth. A two-day stop-over is allowed in New York City, during which time the tourist can take in all the noted landmarks and sights of the big city. Should you desire to stop over longer, you may do so upon payment of $2 extra at the Fall River office, New York City. The return trip from New York is via the Fall River Line Steamers, and all in all, this is one of the most delightful trips ever offered. The round trip is only $5, and special train will leave Boston on October 4. From other stations, the excursion will be on the 3rd. A magnificent and

Among well known Newton residents recently returned from abroad is Mr. Walter C. Brooks, Jr., of Newton Centre, Treasurer of the Boston tailoring firm of Walter C. Brooks & Co., Limited. Coupled with the business trip, a fortnight of golf was enjoyed at St. Andrews, and of these Scottish links Mr. Brooks speaks in high praise.

Monday was a Busy Day for Judge Kennedy

Mrs. Fannie Connors, 39 years old, who lives at 133 Pine street was arraigned for getting into trouble again with her neighbors, the Trackmans. Abram Trackman testified that he was in his yard, next to the Connors house, when Mrs. Connors leaned over the fence and grabbed him by the hair. Then she yanked a picket off the fence, Abram said, and hit him a clip over the head with the board. She was held on two charges, and for drunkenness was given 30 days in the house of correction and for assault another 30 days was imposed. Appearing, she was held in $300 on each charge.

Three men were fined $10 each for being drunk and engaging in a fight Sunday on the Needham bridge at Newton Upper Falls. When they came over the bridge into Newton they were caught by the police. The men were John A. Campbell, 25, of 375 Eliot street; Charles Towle, 24, of 19 Eliot street; and Thomas Cushing, 22, of 23 Hall street. Cushing told the court he had but one hand and therefore was unable to work. "You are able to get drunk with one hand, are you not?" asked Judge Kennedy as he wrote out the sentence and handed it over to clerk Sprague.

Patrick A. Collins, 23, of 9 Crescent square, was held for drunkenness and disturbance. It was charged that while coming home on a car Saturday night he was offended at being put off at Waverly avenue and followed the electric to Nonantum square, where he punched William Neagle, the conductor. The drunkenness case was placed on file, but for the punching Collins was assessed $20 and given a week to get the money.

Jeremiah J. Leary, 23, of 80 Gardner street, was charged with assault upon patrolman Dow when the latter arrested Collins. He was also fined $20, and was given until Oct. 23 to pay.

When James F. Haffernan, 42, of 99 Friend street, Boston, stood up in the dock to answer to the charge of drunkenness the judge asked him if he thought he could do better hereafter. "A night in the lockup, no friends to talk to and nothing but a cup of water, has so impressed me that I will never get drunk again," spoke up Haffernan, who stood little more than five feet high. By this promise he succeeded in having his case placed on file.

John Lapoint, 36, of 183 Charlesbank road, was fined $15 for drunkenness and given until Sept. 29 to pay. Frank H. Scully, 42, of 841 Beacon street, charged with drunkenness, was placed on file, as were also the cases of George Corrier, 32, of Waltham; Angus R. McNeil, 25, of Chestnut street and Maurice Kiley, 31, of 41 Greenough street.

Celestino Boccardo, an organ grinder who lives at 17 Adams street, was charged with drunkenness. When his name was read Judge Kennedy said, enquiringly, "What, is this the organ grinder again?"

Celestino had been before the court a few weeks ago for grinding out music before 9 a. m. and a little while after he was charged with going to sleep on his organ and letting his horse wander about the lawns of Newton Centre residents. Celestino promised to abstain from the cup that cheers and his case was placed on file. "Very much obliged," he said politely as he bowed himself out of the building.

23 For Pat

Patrick Foran was arraigned in the police court Tuesday morning for the 23d time in five years, William Connolly for the 21st time in the same number of years and Mrs. Catherine Connolly, his wife, also appeared before Judge Kennedy.

The three are all 61 years old and live together at 979 Watertown street, West Newton. Early Tuesday morning Connolly called at police headquarters and complained of Foran being intoxicated in his house. Patrolman Lucey went to the dwelling and arrested Foran, and a short time later Sgt. Burke and Patrolman Kyte were obliged to arrest Mr. and Mrs. Connolly. All three were charged with drunkenness. Mrs. Connolly and Foran were sentenced to 30 days in the house of correction, but Foran appealed.

Police Paragraphs.

Arthur J. Deaks, 34 years old, who a few weeks ago was convicted of stealing a horse and carriage from a Newton man, was Tuesday morning sentenced to 30 days in the house of correction for drunkenness when arraigned in the police court. George E. Brown, 41, was found guilty of drunkenness and as he was on probation from the state farm he was sent back to that institution. John Tramer, 67, also charged with drunkenness, had his case continued to Feb. 9.

Auto Ablaze

A blazing automobile on California street, Nonantum, about 6.30 Tuesday evening caused considerable excitement in that district and the firemen had some little trouble extinguishing the flames. The machine was owned by J. H. Dayton of 613 California street, and while it was being driven through the thoroughfare flames shot out from the bottom of the automobile. The loss amounted to $400. The alarm was from box 28.

Girl Lost

Martha Jones, aged 17 years, colored and a state ward, is missing from Auburndale, where she has for a few years made her home at the house of C. E. Almy of Lassell street. She left the house early Tuesday afternoon for a walk and tonight the police were asked to search for her. The girl is short, thick set, had black hair which is cut short. She wore a light sack coat and a hat having only red berries and leaves.

The first football practice of the season of the Newton high squad was called Monday afternoon on the Cabot park grounds.

Football

That Newton high will be able to put a strong football team onto the gridiron this season was evident Monday afternoon, when the first practice of the season was held on the Cabot park grounds. Although the squad was a much smaller one than will be ready later in the week there were eight members of last season's strong team out. Newton high will again play in the Preparatory school league this year.

Fritz Ely, the crack right half back of last year, will be captain of the football team for the second season. Ely is a rapid runner and was last year the star player in several contests. W. C. Agrey will be manager this year.

The squad was coached by Leo. H. Leary, an old Harvard end, who will coach the players throughout the remainder of the season. Under his direction there will doubtless be a number of new players of ability developed. Of the old players out there were all the backfield, Ely, Porter and Burrisson of last year's aggregation; Van Tassel and Safford, guards; Gibson and Caldwell, tackles, and Sladen, one of the ends, were other last year's players.

New quarterbacks and end will be the only positions for which new players will have to be developed. Of the new men to try for football honors were a number of devotees of other branches of athletics in the school. Tower tried for end, Kendall, a member of last year's hockey team; Miley, a substitute catcher on the baseball team; and Moore, a sprinter, tried for quarterback. Sprague, one of the forwards of last year's hockey team, tried for half back. Another new man was Paul. Everyone of the new candidates showed up well in the practice.

The season's schedule is as follows: Oct. 2—Newton High vs. Wellesley High at Newton.

Oct. 5—Newton High vs. Volkmann school at Newton.

Oct. 9—Newton High vs. Hyde Park High at Newton.

Oct. 12—Newton High vs. Dedham High at Newton.

Oct. 16—Newton High vs. Roxbury Latin at Newton.

Oct. 19—Newton High vs. Waltham High at Newton.

Oct. 21—Newton High vs. St. Mark's school at Southboro.

Oct. 27—Newton High vs. Noble & Greenough at Newton.

Nov. 9—Newton High vs. Boston Latin at Newton.

Nov. 16—Newton High vs. Brookline High at Newton.

Nov. 21—Newton High vs. Cambridge Latin at Newton.

Nov. 26—Newton High vs. Brookline High at Newton.

Brookline Man Dead

Mrs. Paxton's Funeral

At the family residence on Elmwood street Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock occurred the funeral of Mrs. Rose Paxton, wife of Mr. James Paxton, Rev. F. S. Hatch, acting pastor of Eliot church officiated and the Mendelssohn quartette rendered "Lead Kindly Light," "Abide With Me" and "Some Day." There were many relatives and friends present and the floral tributes were numerous and of beautiful design. The interment was in Newton cemetery.

Which Is He?

Democrat or Republican. The Draper men last week were preparing to protest the Foss papers in Ward 5 on the ground that one of the signers thereto was a Democrat and had accepted the position as Deputy warden in Precinct 2 of that ward as a member of that party. There was a rejoicing among the Draper republicans as this protest if sustained would leave the Foss papers without the necessary number of names to entitle it to a place on the ballot. It was then discovered that the person whose name was proposed to protest had voted at the primaries of 1905 as a republican and was therefore enrolled as a member of that party. The question now being asked is whether the Deputy warden of Precinct 2 of Ward 5 is a Democrat.

A private investigation of two fires which have occurred under suspicious circumstances in the fruit store of Dandeb Dogosian within the last few weeks took place Tuesday. The investigation was conducted in the police court behind closed doors, Chief Fire Inspector Charles F. Rice of Boston hearing the evidence of the police, the firemen and Dogosian.

Twice a fire was discovered by patrolmen after midnight in the lower floor of the small wooden dwelling on Washington street, Nonantum square. As the structure is situated in one of the thickest business sections of the city the blaze would doubtless have caused great damage if not of loss of life to occupants of nearby tenements if it had not been quickly discovered each time.

It was stated that the result of the hearing would not be made public for some little time. The outcome of the investigation is being awaited with much interest by the firemen, the police and the residents generally.

ELM-LEAF BEETLE

Some interesting hints as to the best methods of fighting the elm-leaf beetles, now so prevalent were given by City Forester Christopher Clarke of Northampton, who has been very successful in caring for the beautiful trees in that fine old Massachusetts town. Mr. Clarke said:

"The best, and practically the only specific and reliable means of destroying this rapidly spreading pest is, first, by spraying the foliage in May, or early in June, when the beetles that have hibernated through the winter and from August of the preceding year, begin to fly to the trees and begin their deadly work by feeding upon the newly formed foliage and eating holes clear through the leaves."

"It is by a careful examination of the trees at this time that the beetles are certainly known to be at work, and the city forester or tree warden must at once secure the means for its destruction, which is only accomplished by thoroughly drenching the foliage, and as far as it is possible, on both sides of the leaves, with arsenate of lead, using four or five pounds to the barrel of water. This is also known in the market as disparane, and although it is death to the beetles, the larvae or worms, it is absolutely harmless to the foliage."

"It should be sprayed on when the foliage is dry, and if it is done at that time it will adhere to the foliage for weeks and more perfectly protect the leaves than by any known formula yet invented."

"What is the best method of spraying trees? I answer that after long and careful experience, I have found that power sprayers with suitable pumps, operated by gasoline engines are by far most rapid and effective for use on all the trees, large and small combined, now to be protected in all the older cities, but where all the trees are small, the hand pump can be used with good results. The advantage of power sprayers is that all pole or dangerous high work is avoided, and the workmen when spraying never need to leave the ladder, but simply change its position, so that the force of the pressure will readily spray every portion of the trees."

"I have found that by far the most effective method of spraying is in using a rather long, straight-tip nozzle of one eighth inch bore, and that this nozzle certainly does the best and most rapid work with the force on the pump at ninety or one hundred pounds pressure in steam engines. This enables the workmen not only to spray but absolutely drench

the foliage at forty feet above the top of the ladder, so that trees eighty to one hundred feet high (which we have in large numbers in this city and other towns in the Connecticut Valley) can be thoroughly protected by using fifty and sixty-foot extension ladders and hose for each machine, and at a very low average of cost per tree. A good-sized tree forty to fifty feet high can thus be sprayed in eight to ten minutes, with rarely but one change in placing the ladder, and on larger trees in fifteen or twenty minutes."

"There is no possible gain or economy in using light or vermoral style of nozzles, which give a light spray, not sufficient for this work. The light nozzles which simply spray are all right for garden and rosebush work, but do not answer nearly as well for rapid and effective tree work. Mr. Pettigrew of the Boston Park Department agrees with me that this method is the best for large tree work, and he has the best spraying outfit I have ever seen in use for his work."

"The most important and immediate work now to be done is the destruction of the pupa or half-formed beetles that are now to be found in large numbers at the foot of the elm tree. This is done by sprinkling them with boiling hot water on the ground at the foot of the trees, first brushing down all that are on the trunk of the trees."

"Boiling hot water is certainly not in the least injurious to the trees, and it is wise for all interested in the preservation of their trees to do this work at once, as the pupa, looking like yellow kernels of rice, will soon have wings and fly away to hibernate for the winter, returning next spring, as veteran beetles, to continue their work of destruction."

"I advise all cities and towns to plan for next year's work by the purchase of this apparatus this fall, or early winter, so as to be ready for spraying work next spring, especially as the present great demand for apparatus, makes it imperative to order the same promptly, so as to enable them to use it when the beetle or worms first appear."

"The following apparatus should be secured by cities or towns that do their own spraying: One gasoline engine for spraying, one sixty-foot four section extension ladder, one thirty-five foot single ladder, one eighteen foot single ladder, one twelve-foot single ladder, 200 to 300 feet rubber lined cotton hose, two straight tipped nozzles, 1-8-inch bore. The above apparatus for each team of four men, for each power machine; also, one tank for spray, one tank for water, if a steam machine is used, one low truck or wagon, with broad tires, so it can be used on lawns."

One of the most successfully conducted educational institutions in this State is Burdett College of 18 Boylston street, Boston. President Burdett and his able associates have attracted wide-spread attention to this school, and made its name a household phrase by an intelligent study both of the needs of the student and employer. It is no wonder that young men and women go miles to take advantage of the opportunities which this school offers for systematic training in Bookkeeping, Shorthand and Touch Typewriting. The courses of instruction are so arranged at Burdett College that pupils can enter any Monday morning.

In a recent editorial in the Boston American occurs the following paragraph:

The Overtime Bill—desired by every wage-earner and every citizen in the State who objects to child labor and to night work for women in factories—was killed this year by connivance between members of the Legislature belonging to both of the old parties. The President of the Senate, who himself turned the trick which enabled the minority to undo the action of the majority, WAS REWARDED BY AN APPOINT-MENT TO THE SUPERIOR COURT.

We cannot spend the necessary time to correct ALL the mistakes in fact which are made by the American, but it seems necessary to deny the allegation that Judge William F. Dana of Newton received his appointment as a reward for his action on the "overtime bill." Governor Guild is well known as a staunch supporter and advocate of legislation to abolish child labor and a friend of labor in general and it is the height of absurdity to say that he would "reward" by judicial appointment any person who thwarted his hopes and plans in these directions. As a matter of fact the "overtime" bill defeated at the last session of the legislature was not a bill designed to aid the labor cause and was not supported by the true friends of labor. It had the favor of the unthinking mass of people and such papers as the Boston American and its defeat was therefore demanded by the true interests of Massachusetts.

In attributing to either Judge Dana or Governor Guild the attitude of mind indicated by the above editorial, the American simply judges others by its own standard of political morality, and cannot appreciate the high plane of action upon which these gentlemen move.

A correspondent who evidently follows the GRAPHIC closely has sent us a circular issued by the Malden Street and Water Commissioners, stating that after January 1st, 1907, there would be no rental for water meters in that city and a reduction in the minimum advance charge for water from $12 to $9. Our correspondent urges us to continue the agitation on the water question and pertinently adds that Malden is a much poorer city than Newton.

We do not need any urging to continue calling attention to the water question in this city. The opportunity is so apparent and the continual reduction in annual charges for interest and sinking funds on the water debt, so constantly increases the credit balance of the department, that it is not only good business to reduce the water rates but it will soon become a leading issue in the city.
Mayors have been elected and defeated on matters of less moment than the water rates.

The newspapers of this state are making a great mistake in giving the large amount of space to the actions of the district attorney of Suffolk, a candidate for gubernatorial honors. The advertising he is receiving is worth thousands of dollars to him, and we believe that he is working the newspapers solely with that end in view. If the papers would boil down the news from the district attorney's office, omit mentioning the name of the candidate and spell the title of his present and probably last office with a small "d" the general effect would be much better.

We believe that the general sentiment of this city is in favor of the renomination of Lieutenant Governor Draper, but in view of the small vote usually cast at our state primaries, the actual choice of the state delegates rest with the few who take interest enough to express their views on such matters. The Fosmen are to make a contest in Wards 2, 3, 5 and 6 and will probably elect their ticket in some of these wards.

We are sorry to learn that the Watertown delegates to the Republican senatorial convention have been pledged to one of the up-district candidates. Watertown should stand as neutral as Newton in this matter, and allow the other end of the district to settle the nomination in its own way. The Newton delegation should be a unit for the candidate having a majority of the country towns, regardless of the Watertown delegation's position.

Suicide from Grief

Because his wife had been sentenced to the house of correction on Monday,
Patrick D. Connors of Pine street, West Newton, took Paris green on Tuesday and died in great agony that night. His oldest daughter, Bessie, aged fifteen years said that she had found a box of Paris green in her father's room early Tuesday morning and some spilled on the bed clothes. She had thrown the box away and called in a neighbor, Mrs.
Bridget Corliss. On returning she found that her father had thrown up the poison and believing that he was all right
she had gone to Boston to draw his pay.
When she returned in the late afternoon,
she found her father worse, and called a doctor who arrived too late to render assistance. Mr. Connors was employed by the B. & A. railroad.

When news of the suicide was received at the house of correction, steps were immediately taken by the district attorney to revoke the sentence just given Mrs. Connors and she was allowed to return to her home. Mr. Connors was 40 years of age and leaves eight children
the youngest being but four months.

Mr. Collagan Insane

During a temporary attack of insanity,
William B. Collagan, a well known resident of West Newton committed suicide, Tuesday afternoon by hanging. Mr.
Collagan has been subject to occasional fits of insanity and has been committed to an insane asylum several times during the past ten years. He was released only a few weeks ago and since that time has been boarding with Mrs. James Leighton of 58 Wandrop street, altho his family reside at 20 Webster place. Mrs.
Leighton left the house about three in the afternoon leaving Mr. Collagan lying in the hammock. Returning about 5:30 she found he had disappeared and accordingly notified his brother. A short time after Mrs. Leighton found the body hanging from a beam in the cellar by a half inch rope. The younger Mr. Collagan arrived just then and cut his brother down. Mr. Collagan had stood on a box and adjusted the rope about his neck and then kicked over the box. This fell with the open side upwards and the feet were found dangling inside of the box.

Mr. Collagan was 43 years of age and leaves a wife and two children. He had been engaged in the tailoring business in West Newton for many years.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence, 20 Webster place, West Newton.

from the house Thursday afternoon at 2:30 conducted by Rev. T. W. Bishop

The funeral of the late Allan McIntosh, who died Thursday of last week,

relatives and friends and there was a from his host of acquaintances in the business world. Rev. Edwin T. Sullivan rector of Trinity church officiated and the burial was in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Mr. McIntosh was a well known plastering and stucco contractor and supervised the work on some of the largest buildings in Boston including the new Public Library, State House, Ames building and Colonial building. He has just completed the work on the new Harvard Medical School buildings.

syth, on Church street Thursday after-

Clark--Haskell

The beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Haskell, at Vista Hill, Auburndale, was the scene, Wednesday evening of a brilliant home wedding, when their grand daughter, Miss Martha Gay Haskell, the daughter of Col.
William E. Haskell, became the bride of Mr. Eugene Francis Clark, of Auburndale, the son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs.
Francis E. Clark.

The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock, by Rev. Dr. Clark, father of the groom and founder of the Christian Endeavor Society, assisted by Rev. Julian
C. Jaynes of the West Newton Unitarian church, of which the bride was an attendant.

The ceremony took place in the library, which was profusely decorated with green, brightened with red roses and pink astors. The bridal party entered the room through an aisle formed by white ribbons held by the Misses Beatrice Tower, Maudie Clark, Louise Pelou-bet, Ruth Farley, Emily Farley, all of Auburndale, Miriam Hall Nelson of Derby Lane, Vt., and Helen Darling of Pawtucket, R. I. The bride was accompanied by Miss Margaret Haskell as maid of honor, and was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Harold S. Clark of Auburndale, brother of the groom was the best man. Following the ceremony, a largely attended reception was held, 1000 invitations having been sent to the many friends of the young couple. The receiving party consisted of Mr.
and Mrs. Edwin B. Haskell, Col. and Mrs. W. E. Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Clark and Rev. Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Clark. The thrilling guests were presented by these ushers:—Messrs. Irving French, Van

New Bridge

Our neighboring town of Watertown has been for the past year making great improvements in the highway connecting Nonantum square with that village and the widening of Galen street at a cost of one hundred thousand dollars has been much appreciated by residents of this city. New sidewalks and curbing and a new macadam road bed make travel whether on foot or wheel a greater pleasure than ever.

The improvement however will not stop at the Charles river, and work has already commenced upon a new and fine bridge to span the river at substantially the same place as the old structure. The cuts give an idea of the proposed lay out of streets and bridge and the appearance of the latter. The proposed improvements here will cost $55,000 of which the Metropolitan park commission will contribute $10,000. The new bridge will be of reinforced concrete with stone facings and the work will probably be completed in August 1907. A glance at the lay out will show that a new and direct approach will be made between the new bridge and Mt. Auburn street, thru which street cars will not be allowed to pass, the tracks remaining on Galen street and turning thru Watertown square. The park boulevard now stopping at Beacon square will be continued and other Republican leaders. Among these is the extract from Senator Hanna's speech where he used the "stand pat" expression, it being the only instance in the Text-Book where the words "stand pat" are used. A page is given to Mr. Bryan and his views, with the comments of the New York World. A so-called "Prosperity Postscript" is added giving treasury conditions, trade reports, etc., down to August 1.

For the first time in a political campaign, the Text-Book will have a general circulation, as together with other literature, it will be sent on receipt of one dollar by John C. Eversman, Assistant Treasurer, 1133 Broadway, New York.

WASHINGTON LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 15, 1906. There is trouble and a good deal of it in the Government Printing Office. There has been friction and dissatisfaction ever since the removal of public printer Palmer and the appointment of Mr. Chas. Stillings, an outsider of Boston, as his successor. Discharges and suspensions have followed each other in rapid succession until the whole force of the great government print shop is on edge wondering where the lightning will strike next. Mr. Stillings has been the head of a large commercial printing establishment, and it is generally understood that he is thoroughly experienced in his trade. The Government Printing Office is the largest and best equipped establishment of its sort in the world, but there has been nothing but trouble ever since the new Public Printer has been in charge. Exactly what the difficulty is, it would be hard to say. The explanation of the Printing Office employees is that, "He's all right, but he won't do." It is perhaps the first time, since the days of Andrew Jackson, that the printing office has been run on economical business-like lines. The joint committee of Congress on printing has investigated the situation during the recess without arriving at any definite conclusion. The Office has long been an asylum for political printers looking for soft places and easy work with big and sure pay, and now when they have grown old in office resent as an intruder a young man full of energy, who insists on them doing something. The United States Patent Office sorely needs a man like Public Printer Stillings.

Considerable criticism has been caused by the action of the Department of Agriculture in its latest ruling as to meat labels. The new meat inspection law will go into effect on October 1st, and in virtue of this law, all meat products will have to bear a government inspector's stamp and be labelled for exactly what they are, so that there will be no question of deceiving the purchaser and consumer. There has been a number of conferences between the Secretary of Agriculture and the meat packers as to

$5 NEW YORK EXCURSION

Mrs. Ella F. Mason, the matron at the Newton police headquarters has always been renowned on account of her fondness for pets. In years gone by her birds, cats, rabbits or squirrels have attracted the attention of her friends but the latest acquisition to the long list is "Mike" a tiny chameleon. Mike is comparatively a newcomer, having been a member of the household but a week but he is thoroughly at home and apparently enjoying life. Mrs. Mason purchased the little fellow at Revere beach and carried him to West Newton in her handkerchief. In her pleasant apartments on the top floor of the police building there is a sunny window facing south, filled with potted plants. Here Mike was domiciled and proceeded to wage war on the insects that live on the leaves of the plants. His name originated from his usual color which is as clear an emerald green as one could imagine. However his skin does not remain one shade for any great length of time but is constantly changing. Next to green his favorite color is a dull brown. To make the acquaintance of this odd little reptile, one has but to catch a fly and present it to him. One fly is usually a meal for Mike and after he has eaten it he retires to the stalk of one of the plants for a nap. With the curious long toes of his species he is able to hold on, no matter how violently the plant is shaken. Throughout the day he is very lively and darts from plant to plant, varying this with crawling across the surface of the window panes. As soon as it grows dusk he hides under a in a graceful curve to the new bridge and then follow the river on the Newton side.

The land to be occupied by these improvements has all been acquired by the town with the exception of one brick block on Main street and this property should also be taken, for it would be a great pity to mar the park like effect of the central square with an old fashioned and ugly brick building.

The bridge and approaches are to be built from plans of the town engineer, Mr. Willbur F. Learned and the Town of Watertown is to be congratulated upon the creditable manner in which its officials have handled the preliminary details of this great improvement.

This bridge is said to be the oldest bridge built by white men in this country. An examination of the records shows that as early as 1641, steps were taken regarding the maintenance of a foot bridge, and in 1647-48 a "horse bridge" was constructed at this point. The statement is also made that the Norsemen visited this point and named the country "norumbega."

Republican Campaign Text Book

A departure has been made in the Republican Campaign Text-Book just issued, in that its contents are wholly devoted to live issues, and these are treated in the briefest possible way, yet comprehensively enough to include all necessary facts and figures.

Proposed Layout of Approaches to Watertown Bridge.
(Courtesy of F. E. Critchett, Town Clerk, Watertown.)

First, there is a general statement of the issues of 1906, followed by a brief review of Republican legislation in general and the work of the Fifty-ninth Congress in particular. The Railroad Rate Law, Pure Food Law, Free Alcohol Law, Employers' Liability Law and the Meat Inspection portion of the Agricultural Appropriation Law were given in full, as is Chairman Taft's clear explanation of the appropriations.

The Labor question is next fully presented, followed by Representative Watson's exposition of Anti-Trust proceedings. About one hundred pages are given to the Tariff, Agriculture and Manufactures, and the tables showing the various phases of industrial activity. Among other subjects treated under the tariff are:

Protection and Free Trade;
Customs Revenue;
Foreign Commerce;
Home Market and Internal Trade;
Wages and Prices;
Export Discounts; Reciprocity;
Free Hides;
Revision, etc., etc.

Some half hundred tables give official and authoritative figures down to the latest possible date. The work of the President and administration is then briefly presented, the condition and status of the Philippines, the Panama Canal, the Navy, Postal Service, Irrigation, etc., etc.

The President's letter to Representative Watson concludes the work, which has a copious index of over a dozen pages.

Scattered throughout the book are quotations from President Roosevelt the forms of new labels that will have to be used. Any thing that is deceptive, such as "potted chicken", made out of veal; or "picnic ham", made out of beef, has been absolutely barred; but the packers stormed the Agriculture Department this week on the subject of "canned roast beef". It will be recalled that "canned roast beef" was at the bottom of all the Army contract scandals after the Spanish-American war. The so-called "roast beef" was not roasted at all, but was a steam compound made out of the very lowest grade of cattle and was a ration which even the hungry soldiers in Cuba were forced to throw away. However, the packers claim that "canned roast beef" is a feature of every Army ration in the civilized world that it constitutes a valuable trademark, in virtue of which alone they are enabled to compete with Australia and Argentine for domestic and foreign army contracts. So the Agriculture Department has allowed them to retain the label "roast beef" knowing perfectly well that there is no such thing among packing-house compounds, and the law is gotten around by allowing the packers to print in fine type on the label the fact that the beef is steamed and not roasted after all. There has been considerable criticism of the Secretary of Agriculture for making this concession and the chances are that when Congress meets the matter will be formally investigated.

Rate of Taxation

The Mass. Title Insurance Co. has just issued its annual card containing the rates of taxation of 20 cities and Whist.

It is seldom that failure to note the turned trump card causes the loss of six tricks, and yet the following hand was recently played at the American Whist club with that remarkable result.

West dealt and turned the heart 10, and the play went as follows:

TRICKS	NORTH	EAST	SOUTH	WEST
1.....	3 ♠	K ♠	2 ♠	4 ♠
2.....	Q ♠	A ♠	4 ♠	3 ♠
3.....	4 ♠	K ♠	3 ♠	2 ♠
4.....	5 ♠	J ♠	9 ♠	8 ♠
5.....	7 ♠	Q ♠	2 ♠	10 ♠
6.....	7 ♠	K ♠	8 ♠	7 ♠
7.....	4 ♠	J ♠	9 ♠	9 ♠
8.....	7 ♠	10 ♠	5 ♠	2 ♠
9.....	9 ♠	8 ♠	8 ♠	6 ♠
10.....	J ♠	6 ♠	10 ♠	3 ♠
11.....	K ♠	5 ♠	J ♠	8 ♠
12.....	A ♠	A ♠	Q ♠	10 ♠

North and South 6 tricks.

Trick 3. East takes chances in the short trump, but it is a chance which seems justifiable.

Trick 4. South forgets that the 10 is turned by West and plays conventionally by covering the Jack, although the ace is marked in west's hand. The remainder of the hand plays itself.

Now note the difference if South plays his hand with knowledge of the turned trump.

TRICKS	NORTH	EAST	SOUTH	WEST
1.....	3 ♠	K ♠	2 ♠	4 ♠
2.....	Q ♠	A ♠	4 ♠	3 ♠
3.....	4 ♠	K ♠	3 ♠	2 ♠
4.....	5 ♠	J ♠	9 ♠	8 ♠
5.....	J ♠	5 ♠	2 ♠	10 ♠
6.....	A ♠	5 ♠	5 ♠	6 ♠
7.....	7 ♠	6 ♠	10 ♠	7 ♠
8.....	8 ♠	Q ♠	Q ♠	A ♠
9.....	7 ♠	8 ♠	8 ♠	9 ♠
10.....	9 ♠	10 ♠	J ♠	9 ♠
11.....	4 ♠	J ♠	Q ♠	3 ♠
12.....	7 ♠	K ♠	8 ♠	2 ♠
13.....	K ♠	A ♠	9 ♠	6 ♠

North and South 6 tricks.

The play is the same until the 4th trick.

Trick 6. East must now choose between a force and an attempt to win his partner in to lead the ace of trumps. The diamond seems the better play, but it makes no difference in the result if he leads a spade. South will trump and leading the clubs will bring about the same situation as at trick 7. It is possible for East and West to make one more trick if West leads the diamond after trumping in and leading the trump ace, but with the spade suit established his best play seems to indicate the force, leaving East with the re-entry in diamonds which his short trump indicates. The entire play of the hand however revolves upon South's cover or refusal to cover at trick 4.

THEATRES

Keith's Theatre—One of the sensations in theatricals last season was Fred Walton, the English pantomimic comedian who came to this country to appear in the new version of "Babes in the Wood" and whose clever work was responsible for the vogue enjoyed by that production. After the close of the regular season Mr. Walton was induced to go into vaudeville playing his famous character of the toy soldier in a sketch called "Cissie's Dream," a tremendous success from its first performance. Mr. Walton in "Cissie's Dream" will be the leading feature at Keith's the week of September 24th and a stronger attraction could hardly have been obtained. For their fourth and final week Cressy and Dayne have reserved the drollest of all Mr. Cressy's sketches, "Town Hall Tonight." Their engagement is one of the most successful ever played at Keith's and if the wishes of the management and of the patrons could prevail they would remain for a still longer period. Charles Miller, for a long time the popular leading man of the Bowdoin Square Theatre stock company, is to make his vaudeville debut in an original sketch entitled "The Cat's-paw." Those who have had an opportunity to see a rehearsal predict a brilliant success for Mr. Miller. "The Gems," a famous English organization, are to present their unique entertainment called "Song, Play, Mirth." The Four Nightingales, posturers and novelty gymnasts, and Mullen and Corelli, athletic humorists, will furnish the acrobatic section of the bill. Others on the list of entertainers will be Mr. and Mrs. Adelman, the premier xylophonists who have just returned from Europe; George W. Day, a favorite blackface humorist; Orin and Fern, comedy skitists; Prof. Dubois and his human monkey, "Adam"; the De Faye Sisters, versatile instrumentalists; and Sadie Jansell, character comedienne. A concert for the benefit of the Floating Hospital will be given Sunday evening, the 23rd.

Tremont Theatre—For the third and last week of Arnold Daly's very successful engagement at the Tremont Theatre he will present a triple bill, including "The Flag Station," "How He Lied to Her Husband," and "The Monkey's Paw" on Monday and Friday evenings; "Candida" (by special request) on Tuesday evening and Saturday afternoon; "Arms and the Man" at the Wednesday matinee and Saturday evening; another triple bill, comprising "Grandfather Conquest," "The Lemonade Boy," and "The Man of Destiny" on Wednesday evening, and "You Never Can Tell" on Thursday evening. The list continues nine of the most popular of Bernard Shaw's plays, and that they will be admirably acted cannot be doubted by any one who has seen the earlier performances by Mr. Daly and his superb company. The attraction to follow Arnold Daly at the Tremont on Oct. 1 is "The Student King," a masterful operatic romance of sixteenth century Bohemia, with book and lyrics by Frederic Ranken and Stanislaus Stange, and music by Reginald de Koven. The work, which had an all-summer run in Chicago, will be interpreted by a very strong company under the management of Henry W. Savage.

Grand Opera House—At the Boston Grand Opera House next week the attraction will be the big sensational detective drama "Secrets of the Police" which will be presented by A. H. Woods' splendid company of capable players, and with an unusually elaborate scenic setting. Matinees will be given as usual on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Bijou Theatre—Another of those merry comedies, "Why Smith Left Home," will be the offering by John Craig and his stock company at the Bijou Theatre next week. The piece was written by George H. Broadhurst who has contributed a number of laughable plays to the stage. The story concerns a newly married man who becomes annoyed at the manner in which his wife's relatives swoop down upon him, and resolving to rid himself of their unwelcome visits he gets the hearty cooperation of the cook, Lavinia Daly, and between them they are successful in their endeavor. It happens that this same Lavinia Daly is one of the most amusing characters ever put upon the stage, and when the play was first produced it was no less an actress than Annie Yeomans who played the part making it one of the greatest successes of her career. From first to last "Why Smith Left Home" is constantly amusing, and whenever it has been produced in this city or elsewhere it has been attended by enormously large audiences. Manager Craig has carefully cast the piece, and in order to insure as perfect a performance as possible he has engaged a well known stage manager to rehearse it. The force of this past week was patronized by the largest audiences of the season thus far, and the indications are that even more people will be present at every performance at the Bijou next week, especially by those who enjoy a clean, bright farce well acted. Patrons of the afternoon performances at the Bijou should remember that they still have the privilege of going into Keith's beautiful theatre at the close of the Bijou performance and seeing the usual high-class bill of vaudeville attractions.

Norumbega Park—There are but the few remaining performances of this week for witnessing one of those excellent vaudeville programs that have been presented each afternoon and evening during the entire summer for the regular season at Norumbega Park closes Sunday evening. The park will however remain open that patrons may visit this wonderfully attractive resort on the banks of the Charles and watch the rich autumnal tints increase and brighten as the nights begin to grow cooler. The first autumn leaves appear on the banks of the Charles and canoeists find this the pleasantest part of the year for this exhilarating exercise that is so enthusiastically followed on the Charles. It is said that there is no better equipped boat-house than the one at this park. An innovation of this season and a feature that may be enjoyed after the close of the regular season is the Naptha launches which run every fifteen minutes from the new landing at the foot of the North Slope. These afford a pleasant trip without exertion on the part of the patron and are fully as enjoyable as the more strenuous canoeing. The restaurant will also remain open with its excellent cuisine for several weeks yet and tourists find it a delightful place at which to dine after the trip over the beautiful Newton Boulevard. One of the most interesting features of the Park at any season of the year is the Zoological Garden, which is said to be unexcelled by any collection outside the large cities in this country. The animals may be visited while the park is open and each visit finds them more interesting than before for these contented inmates are in excellent condition from their long summer in the open air.

Y. M. C. A.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association will meet for their first regular meeting of the season on Wednesday Sept. 26 afternoon, 3 o'clock, at the Association Building, Mr. H. W. Gibson, Boy Work Director for the state, will speak. A large attendance is desired.

The Y. M. C. A. team finished another successful season by defeating Brookline, 8-0, last Saturday afternoon at Cabot Park. The game was one of the best that has been played at the park this year, for despite the one-sided score, the work was clean and snappy throughout. Shive, the crack Brookline pitcher, who in a previous game had let the local team down with four hits, was batted all over the lot by the home boys, a total of 14 hits for 20 bases being gathered. The Brookline boys were able to connect only 4 times off Nelsons delivery. Nelson and Bartley at the bat and La Rose in the field excelled for the locals, while Gaffey carried off the honors for the visitors.

Out of a total of 15 games played this season, Nelson, the pitcher, went to bat 60 times, made 27 hits, scored 13 runs, leading the team with an average of .450 per cent. Capt. Wharton, the catcher, had a grand total of 125 chances, and only 3 errors, giving him a fielding average of .976 per cent.

Political Notes

The Foss papers were thrown out in Ward 4 as one man had signed both the Foss and Draper papers. His name was accordingly taken from both papers and this action left the Foss ticket with a less number of signatures than the law requires.

The town committee of Framingham have sent a circular throughout the district urging the claims of Framingham to the senatorship from this district.

Republican conventions for this district have been called as follows: Middlesex county, Odd Fellows Hall, Lowell, Tuesday Oct. 2, 10.30 A. M.; Sixth Councillor, Wesleyan Hall, Boston, Thursday, Oct. 4, at 11 A. M.; 12th Congressional, Wesleyan Hall, Boston, Saturday, Oct. 6th, at 11 A. M.

Associated Charities

The meetings of the Associated Charities will be resumed Sept. 27. The members are making an effort to become acquainted with the scope and accomplishments of all the charitable enterprises in Newton. At the next meeting, speakers will tell of the different Day Nurseries in the city, those already in operation and such as are contemplated.

Going Some

A dispute over who would steer a big touring car is said by the police to have been the cause of an automobile accident on Weston bridge. Auburndale, early Wednesday morning, in which one man was thrown into the Charles river and four other persons had a narrow escape from serious injury.

Eleven iron posts and more than 100 feet of iron railing on the Auburndale side of the bridge were torn completely away when hit by the rapidly moving automobile, even one of the heavy granite stones into which the iron posts were set being moved from its foundation by the force of the impact.

Fred H. Down of Boston is the name of the young man thrown into the Charles river, according to what his companions told the police. After being rescued by the Metropolitan park police he was removed to the Newton hospital, where it was found that he sustained a badly fractured arm.

Four other occupants of the big car, two young women and two young men, each about 28 or 30 years old and well dressed, who refused to give their names, received a severe shaking up and fortunately escaped with only minor bruises. The automobile was numbered 15,750, according to the Newton police. The car was badly damaged, but after being repaired somewhat the other members of the party were able to proceed toward Boston in it.

It is believed by the police that the three young men and the two young women passed through this city Tuesday evening on a trip through the country towns west of here. It was not long after midnight when the return trip was started.

Speeding down the hill of the curving thoroughfare in Weston which is an extension of the Commonwealth avenue boulevard from this city, the automobile came with great speed onto the Weston bridge at Auburndale. It crashed into the iron railing at the Weston end and ripped out every iron post and iron railing on that side, leaving only the wooden fence at the further end of the bridge remaining and throwing the rest into the river.

The machine sped along on two wheels after it crashed into the fence, breaking off the 11 iron posts one by one. Luckily its momentum kept it on the bridge until after travelling for more than 100 feet dangerously near the edge it was turned to one side and brought to a stop.

When the automobile hit the fence Down was thrown into the edge of the river, where the water was only about six feet deep. He was unable to swim, but managed to secure a hold on an old plank which had been thrown into the river until one of the life preservers kept on the bridge for use in emergencies could be thrown him. One of the young women then ran to the Metropolitan park police station, a short distance away, and the park officers rescued the struggling man.

After Down had been given treatment at the park police station a local physician was summoned. He was ordered removed to the Newton hospital, where it was found that his arm was badly fractured.

Down's companions were willing to tell the particulars of the accident, but they refused to give out their names. It is believed that they were members of well-to-do Boston families.

—Mrs. Carl Enholm is home from a week's visit with Worcester friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Leland are spending a week or two in Westport.

—Mr. Austin Early has returned to Dartmouth college for his final year.

—The Sunday school classes at St. Mary's Episcopal church will be resumed Oct. 7.

—Mrs. Eben Plympton and family have returned from a few weeks' sojourn at Old Orchard, Me.

—Mr. Frederick C. Leslie has returned from a brief stay in Vermont, where he was the guest of friends.

—Master Pierre Clauselle has entered the Allen school at West Newton and will reside in that village during the school year.

—John Early, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Early of Washington street hill, has been confined by illness for several days.

—There is a greatly increased registration of pupils in the North school over the last few years. The school is as a result badly overcrowded.

—Chief Daniel F. Warren of the Wellesley fire department, a well known resident of the Lower Falls district, has been spending the past two weeks in Breton Woods, N. H.

—Miss Annie O'Neil of Grove street, who broke her arm by a slight fall a few weeks ago, is now rapidly improving. It is expected that in another month she will be able to use her arm again.

—A meeting of the Brooks club was held Saturday afternoon in St. Mary's parish hall, when preliminary arrangements for another season of study and sports were made. The prospects are bright for one of the most successful seasons in the history of the club. Preparations are under way for placing a basketball team in the field. There is plenty of material, it is believed, among the young men of the club for even a stronger team than that of last year.

—Along Washington street in this vicinity the Natick and Cochituate Street Railway company has had men busy the past few weeks trimming the magnificent shade trees so that the wires and branches will not interfere with each other. For a considerable distance along the thoroughfare new poles have just been erected farther out from the trees than the old ones. The company seems to be taking every means possible in this vicinity at least to save the handsome shade trees.

Why in the world do you bake bread during hot weather? It is because you have never tried CREAMALT BREAD (the oval loaf.) When it gets cooler next Fall you can start in again, but you won't because the family will insist on having the same delicious, rich bread you gave them all Summer. You know how to make good bread but you don't know how to make CREAMALT BREAD.

Fresh each day at your grocer's. r o c a loaf.

Fire and Water

The alarm from box 31 at 10:07 last Friday morning was for a fire in the second story of the house occupied by James H. Furneau and family, 31 Dunston street, West Newton. It was caused by a mattress catching afire from gasoline. The damage amounted to $50 and was covered by insurance. The house was owned by C. F. Eddy. The blaze for a short time gave residents of the immediate vicinity a bad scare.

An alarm was sent in from box 32, West Newton, Sunday evening for a fire in the dwelling at 176 River street owned by James Gallagher and occupied by Thomas Gould and family. The fire originated from some unknown cause on the lower floor. Damage amounted to $50, covered by insurance.

John Foote, an 80-year old resident of Newton Upper Falls, while taking a walk in that village Sunday evening, fell into the Charles river near Hemlock Gorge reservation. Luckily the accident occurred in a spot where the water was shallow. He was rescued by patrolman McKenzie. After being attended by a local doctor he was taken to his home on Elliot street.

Jurors Drawn

A special meeting of the board of aldermen was held Monday evening to draw jurors. President Clark presided and Aldermen Beck, Bishop, Burr, Clarke, Day, Doherty, Ellis, Hall, Holmes, Hunt and Palmer were also present. Alderman Day was designated to draw the jurors and William J. McCarthy, Riverdale avenue, Henry N. F. Marshall, Newtonville avenue, Spencer W. Shepardson, Maple avenue and Manley U. Adams, Temple street were the names selected.

A hearing was ordered for Oct. 1st on petition of the Western Union Telegraph Co. to make temporary attachments of its wires to poles on Highland street and Temple street, for reporting the National golf tournament at the Brae Burn Country Club beginning Oct. 6th.

The board adjourned at 7:55 P. M.

Grade Crossing Work

Substantial progress has been made on the depression of the railroad tracks at Newton Centre. The south track is being rapidly excavated, the steam shovel being at Cypress street working towards the east and will complete its labors just beyond Langley road. It will then wait for the transfer of the track now used for regular trains to its permanent location in the excavation now being made. The shovel will then get to work taking out the earth on the north track.

The retaining walls have been completed on both sides to beyond Langley road and the abutments are ready for the bridges at Centre street, Cypress street, Institution avenue and Langley road. The bridge has been placed in position at Glen avenue, and the earth removed allowing passage underneath. Work is now in progress on macadamizing the street and when completed there will be a great improvement over the old blind crossing. The bridge here is of new style with iron pockets which hold the railroad sleepers. These pockets can be noticed from the street beneath.

At Centre street, the earth from the steam shovel is being used for the abutments on each side. The south side has been completed and this week should see equal progress on the north side. The estates along the new grade are being repaired and brought up to the new grade, and the ice houses are fully settled down to the new conditions.

The new grade at Langley road will be a great improvement on the south side of the track although several large trees will have to be sacrificed on account of the necessary widening near Warren street. The rise will be noticeable from the north side but will not be enough to be inconvenient to travel. The temporary crossing at Langley road was closed this week and the four large derricks which have loomed on the south side near Institution avenue are being dismantled.

The work is also being completed at Newton Highlands. The asphalt flooring has been laid this week on the Rogers and Hyde street bridges. The streets approaching both of these bridges from the north have been macadamized and residents are impatiently awaiting the opening to travel. The new path and steps to the railroad station from Hyde street are now being used and will prove a great accommodation to that vicinity. The Walnut street bridge and approach need only a little iron fencing to mark full completion. Boylston street bridge is also fully completed, concrete walks having been finished this week.

The grade crossing work on the south side has given employment to between 300 and 400 men, employed by the contractor on the cement walls, the railroad and the city. A curious feature of this work is the difference in the hours of labor of the three employers. The contractor works his men ten hours, the railroad nine and the city eight.

The Newton Centre work will not be finished until next year, and if as much delay ensues on putting the iron work on the bridges into position, as at Newton Highlands, it may be 1908 before the end will be reached.

In the mean time the south side must possess its soul in patience and thank how nice it will be when the laborers cease from troubling and the steam shovel is at rest.

Is Newton Complying With the State Laws?

To the GRAPHIC:—As I understand the law, every town in the state of Massachusetts is obliged to furnish a High school education to all of its children free of expense to them or to their parents. Out of the thousands of children who attend the High school it is safe to say that seven hundred pay fares to some railroad every day, both going and returning. The lowest possible fare is 1-2 cents, and the highest is 5 cents, so that each fare would average 3 cents, and twice a day would be 6 cents, and five days in a week would be 30 cents for each person; for 700 persons this would be $210 a week, and for 36 weeks it would be $7560. This sum represents what the tax payers of Newton are really paying to have their children go to a central High school. This does not say anything about the long exhausting walk which many must take in all weathers before reaching the cars, or the extra amount of wear on brain from traveling these long distances. $7560, besides a $16.40 tax rate. The city of Newton, as a city, could make very much better terms with the railroads than we now have, and it should be arranged so that each High school pupil should have a free pass to and from school. The little town of Hull has a few pupils, and sends them to Hingham for their four years of High school. It pays the town of Hingham for the privilege, and also pays the railroad for their transportation, and when the railroad did not send trains the town furnished barges. Is Newton complying with the law?

Oak Hill

Residents of Newton we fear, do not realize what a beautiful country lies south of Newton Centre, entirely within the limits of the city of Newton, and yet as rural as some remote portions of New Hampshire. Oak Hill is the name given to that district lying south of Boylston street and east of Walnut street. It touches West Roxbury and Brookline and is far from the clanging trolley and the noisy locomotive. The automobilist has found it out and frequently passes through, altho at a speed, we understand which fails to allow sufficient time to see and enjoy all the beauties of the place. Good roads traverse the district in all directions and Street Commissioner Ross has just completed about two miles of macadam on Brookline street, which seems almost as smooth as the proverbial billiard table. Beautiful views can be obtained at the right points of the Great Blue Hill and the rolling country to the south and west and from Dudley and Dedham streets, the valley of the South Meadow brook lies basking in the sun.

There has been considerable building in this vicinity of late, a new residence having been constructed by Mrs. Margaret Wade on Dedham street and Mr. Frederick H. Kennard, the landscape architect is building a fine place on Dudley street.

The district is not lacking in historical interest as well as in beauty, as the remains of an old stone fort, a relic of the Indian wars, are found near Brookline street, and an old dam marks the location of the former outlet of Hammon's Pond.

Lasell

Because of lack of room Lasell Seminary has been able to register only 165 students, practically the same number as last year. Registration closed at the seminary at Auburndale Tuesday and Wednesday the sessions began.

Tomorrow evening Mrs. Blanche C. Martin will give an annual reading to the students on "The Sunken Bell" while on Oct. 4 Leon H. Vincent will lecture on "Irving and the Columbian Voyagers."

THOMAS W. LAWSON

with his usual shrewdness, has installed a

"WINCHESTER"

heater in each of his numerous buildings on his estate "DREAMWOLD," Egypt, Mass. If Mr. Lawson and his architects, are satisfied with the merits of the "WINCHESTER" heater, do you not consider it worth specifying on either your steam or hot water heating contracts? Samples may be seen at our office.

PRIMARIES

Foss Defeated in Every Ward
Full List of Nominations and Delegates

Primary Elections were held in the various wards of Newton last Tuesday, the polls being open from twelve o'clock noon until nine o'clock in the evening. 1032 ballots were cast, 881 by the Republican party, 150 by the Democratic party and 15 by Socialists.

There were no contests in the Democratic or Socialist ranks, their candidates for representatives and delegates being unopposed, although Mr. W. H. Mague was elected a state delegate in ward 3 against the regularly nominated delegate, William Cahill. This result was brought about by stickers.

In the Republican party the only contest was for state delegations in ward two, three, five and six, between the Draper and Foss tickets. The Draper men won handily in every ward.

Representative John F. Lothrop, Alderman Elias B. Bishop and Mr. William F. Garcelon will be the republican candidates for representatives, Andrew C. Hughes, James A. O'Donnell, and William H. Thomas, the democratic and Henry Sugden the Socialist candidates. The figures for representatives are given in the printed table, the other delegations and their vote are as follows:

showing in ward 6. There is no question after the Whitney vote of last year that Newton voters are in harmony with the principles advocated by Mr. Foss, but his campaign for a secondary office, on such issues does not appeal to those republicans who are interested enough to attend the primaries. Newton's state delegation will vote solidly for Guild and Draper. For Congress, Hon. John W.
Weeks has all the delegates from Newton and indeed from all over the district. He will be nominated unanimously next week Saturday. Mr. Seward W.
Jones will also receive the unanimous nomination for councillor next Thursday and will add dignity and ability to that much discussed body. The republican nominee for the senate will be Representative McManus of Natick, the Newton delegates having agreed to support his candidacy. The nomination will be made a week from next Monday. The Republican candidates for representatives will be Alderman Bishop, Representative Lathrop and Mr. William F. Garcelon, their calling and election are sure.
At the County convention next Tuesday,
Mr. Edwin O. Childs of Newton will be renominated for Registrar of Deeds, a position he has filled with great ability for many years. There is a contest for County Commissioner to succeed Mr.
Samuel O. Upham of Waltham. Mr. Upham is again a candidate, and Newton delegates should be unanimous in his support. Mr. Upham rendered valuable work in the recent apportionment of representatives whereby Newton was made a triple district by itself. Newton should appreciate Mr. Upham's position on this important matter by giving him its vote.
Clerk of Courts Theodore C. Hurd and County Treasurer Hayden will undoubtedly be renominated.

On the Democratic side there is little to be said. Chairman Doherty made a campaign to elect unpledged delegates to the state convention and would have undoubtedly succeeded if Moran had not swept the state outside. As it is the Newton delegation, with the exception of Mr. Doherty will get aboard the Moran band wagon.

City Hall Notes.

Final returns from the primaries were not received until after one o'clock Wednesday morning. Ward 5 was the last one received.

tels.

Bad Fall

J. J. Johnson, a carpenter, living at East Watertown, fell Wednesday afternoon thru a hole in the Fessenden school building, Albenarle road, Newtonville, where he was working upon repairs, and sustained a broken leg. He was removed to the Newton hospital.

About Town

Monday afternoon some unknown person threw a stone through a window of a train at Newton Upper Falls, but fortunately it did not hit any of the passengers.

Dominico Gardis, aged 24, living at 18
Cook street, Newton Highlands, and employed in the Simpson Bros. pit off Commonwealth avenue, severely injured his left hand on last Friday morning by a rock falling on it. He was taken to the Newton hospital, where it is feared that several fingers will have to be amputated.

Police Paragraphs

Charged with drunkenness and disturbance on a Waltham bound car early Sunday morning, Dominic Caponi, who is well known to the local police, was in court Monday. Patrolman Foristall, who was riding on the electric in civilian's dress at the time, made the arrest after the conductor had vainly asked Caponi to be quiet. He was found not guilty of drunkenness, but for disturbance was fined $5.

In court Tuesday Mrs. Nicolina Caponi, wife of Dominic Caponi of Pine street, West Newton, was arraigned on a charge of disturbance. It was alleged that she hit Mrs. Martin Cox, a neighbor, in the ankle with a stone. After hearing the case at considerable length associate justice Copeland said that the frequent neighborhood rows in that vicinity have got to be stopped. He found the woman guilty of disturbance and the case was continued to Feb. 9.

In the police court Wednesday morning Joseph F. O'Donnell, of Auburndale blacksmith, was arraigned for alleged threatening bodily harm to Moses Cilley, a railroad section foreman. After hearing the evidence to some length associate justice Copeland found O'Donnell not guilty and ordered his discharge.

In the police court Thursday morning
John Thomas, aged 51, living at 57 West street, Newton, was arraigned for drunkenness and his wife, Barbara, aged 40, was arraigned for drunkenness and disturbance. Wednesday night the police took Mrs. Thomas from her house half an hour later they arrested her husband. Their three small children were lodged at police headquarters over night.
Thomas was fined $10, while Mrs.
Thomas was fined $5 on each charge.
They were both given until Oct. 22 to pay.

Golden Wedding

Nearly 300 residents of the Newtons, Boston, Brookline, Providence, Cambridge, and other surrounding towns gathered at the hospitable residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Goodwin Tompson on Otis street, Newtonville, last Monday afternoon and evening to assist them in observing their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The hours were from 3 to 5 and 8 to 11 o'clock and the affair was delightfully informal. The host and hostess receiving in the deep bay window in the drawing room which was banked with potted palms and ferns while over their heads was a large arch of golden rod. Yellow crepe paper, asparagus vine, cut flowers and Japanese lanterns added to the decorative effect while numerous lanterns were strung outside on the piazza and among the trees. In the dining room the tables were presided over by Mrs. C. S. Crain, Mrs. J. T.
Prince, Mrs. W. C. Richardson, Mrs. W.
P. Upham and Mrs. E. P. Hatch, while a number of young ladies assisted in serving and entertaining the guests.
Among the many presents were substantial gifts of gold from the Every Saturday Club, the Swedenborg church and others, including cut glass and a profusion of flowers from relatives and friends. A number of poems were written for the occasion and a wedding march, in honor of the event, was composed by Rev. Joseph Cullen Ayer, Jr., of Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs.
Tompson are old and much respected residents of Newton, having lived in their present home for nearly 47 years, and during that long period there has been no break in the family.

Palmer--Crouse

Mr. Calvin Alonzo Palmer and Miss
Ethel Esma Crouse, daughter of John Crouse, were married last Thursday afternoon by Rev. E. F. Snell at his residence on Watertown street. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer will make their home in Worcester, where the groom is in the electrical business.

Harding--Jennings

A quiet wedding took place at the home of the bride in Weston, Mass., on Monday evening, when Willard Gould Harding of Newton was united in marriage to Miss Harriet Elizabeth Jennings, youngest daughter of W. H. Jennings of Glen road.

Owing to recent bereavement, it was distinctly a home affair, only the immediate families being present.

The bridal couple, unattended, stood beneath a canopy of autumn foliage, and immediately after the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Franklin S.
Hatch, left for a short tour. On their return they will reside at 447 Centre street, Newton.

Graham--McLean

A wedding of considerable interest to friends here was that of Mr. Leith Graham and Miss Elizabeth May McLean, which took place on Saturday at the residence of Rev. F. B. Matthews on Washington street. Rev. Mr. Matthews was the officiating clergyman. Mr. and Mrs.
Graham will reside in Malden on their return from a wedding trip.

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Social Circle was held at the Methodist church last week and the following officers were chosen: President, Miss Martha Mason; vice president, Mrs. F. O.
Barber; secretary, Miss Clara Cushman; treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Bliss; executive committee, Mrs. A. E. Davidson, Mrs. H. S. Leonard, Mrs. D. F. Barber.
A board of managers was also chosen and plans were considered for an experience social to be held in November.

Champion Nonantum No. 5

The old Nonantum No. 5 hand fire engine which was in service at Newton Corner from 1842 until superseded by the present Engine Co. No. 1 in 1866, has won muster honors this season, which has made it the champion of its class of the country. When it was retired from service at Newton it was sold to a lumber firm at Greenville, N. H., to protect its property, where it remained until a few years ago when it was purchased by the town of Ashby, Mass., where it is now in active service under the name of Watatic. At a fireman's muster held at Westminster Sept. 18 it won the first prize with a record of 234 feet, 2 inches, defeating six of the best muster engines in existence, including two former first class champions. At a muster in Garfield, Mass., August 4 it won third prize in a field of ten engines with 223 feet, 4 inches and at Nashua, N. H., on Labor Day it played 242 feet and won the championship for second class engines, but did not take a prize, eight first class engines making better records and the City of Lowell making the championship record of the world for all classes with a record of 259 feet, 6 1-2 inches. The best Newton record of the Nonantum of the Veteran Firemen's Association is 227 feet, 5 3-4 inches. The old Nonantum No. 5 is a 5 1-2 inch horizontal engine built for Newton and one of the smallest that is a constant in hand engine musters.

Alvord Bros. have sold for Alton Babcock to Archer T. Robinson, the new single house and 9803 square feet of land, on the corner of Woodcliff and Rockledge roads, Newton Highlands the whole assessed for $5700. The new owner buys for occupancy.

Alvord Bros. have leased Mrs. A. D.
Brooks' house at 52 Washington park, Newtonville, to S. D. Bullock.

"Hello" Matters

George Hill, for 14 years in the employ of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, on Wednesday resigned his place as wire chief of the 4th suburban district, which includes a large number of cities and towns in this part of the state. He will accept a position as superintendent of the electrical department of the Newton street railway company. Wednesday evening Miss Mary Coughlan was transferred from the Newton West exchange to the Cambridge exchange, and Miss Fannie Humphreys was promoted from chief clerk in the Newton North office to chief operator at Newton West.

Whist Party

The ladies auxiliary of division 10, A.
O. H., opened its social season Tuesday evening with a whist party and dance in Mague hall, West Newton. About 150 guests from this city and neighboring towns attended. The whist prizes were won by Miss Hargeson and Miss Clancy.
Dancing followed until midnight.

Miss Glover

Miss Louise Glover passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. D. C.
Wheelock on Walnut street, Newton-ville, last Tuesday. The funeral and burial will be private.

After Milkmen

Three milk dealers were charged in the police court Tuesday with selling milk below the standard. Frank E.
Childs of Lake street, Waltham, was fined $15, Michael J. Roulston of West Newton, $15, and Fred L. Cook of West
Newton $50.

The complaint was made by a state inspector of milk. Evidence brought out the fact that the milkmen brought their supply from producers and believed that the milk was all right in every way.
The milk it is stated, fell only slightly below the required test, and was not dangerous. There is a belief here that these dealers were the victims of circumstances in that they themselves believed the milk they were selling was up to the standard.

The regular meeting of the school committee was held Wednesday evening, Mr. Bassett presiding in the absence of and the Supt. authorized to procure and ton Centre Vacation School, $200;

nishings new school, $10,000 a total of

The use of the Jackson school rooms was granted the Girls club of Nonantum for 2 evenings a week, and the request of the Newton Centre Woman's club that a portion of the expense of the Vacation school be assumed by the city was also granted.

The board of aldermen were requested to procure a site and to erect a grammar school in the southern portion of Ward 1 to relieve the congestion of the Bigelow district.

Political Notes

The Republican senatorial convention will be held at Temple hall, Newton-ville, Monday, Oct. 8th at 3 P. M.

The local police court did a rushing naturalization business Wednesday evening when 35 took out final papers and 50 received their first papers. The new naturalization law took effect today, and the local court will no longer have jurisdiction in these cases.

The delegates to the Republican senatorial convention were guests of Chairman Hatfield of the city committee at the Newton Club and caucused on the position Newton should take towards the several candidates from the country end of the district. 16 delegates were present out of 20 and after a full discussion of the situation, the candidacy of Representative Edward L. McManus of Natick was unanimously endorsed.

Miss Grace B. Sherman, 309 Centre street, is showing at the Fall Opening, a full line of beautiful hats and bonnets in all the desirable lines and shades of the season, and at very reasonable prices.
She also offers an opportunity for a young person to learn the trade, as there is room in the workroom for an apprentice.

Large Contract Just Completed by Newton Firm

New Railroad Built Across Newton's Water Supply in Needham

Residents of this city have reason to be interested in the work now nearing completion in the neighboring town of Needham of a new railroad, connecting the tracks of the Dedham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. with the tracks of the Woonsocket branch of the same Company. The new road is about four miles and a half long, and is designed primarily to allow the New Haven road to carry its freight directly from Woonsocket to Boston. The new connection leaves the Dedham line near the West Roxbury station and joins the Woonsocket road about a half mile beyond the Needham station. Newton is interested in two directions. First, the work of construction is being done by the well known firm of Newton contractors, T. Stuart & Son Co., and second, because week, twenty holes being blasted at a time. Across the meadows alongside the Charles river, the work changed to filling and for a distance of fully a mile, an average fill of 25 feet was made. This material was so heavy that the surrounding meadow settled considerably and more filling was thereby required. The Stuart Company ran eight trains of cars during the height of the work, the rock and gravel excavated at one place being transported to the portion of the line requiring a fill. Here the track was built at the right grade on a trestle and the trains running to the end to dump. The cars were of the most modern construction and easily handled. Near the West Roxbury end was a long gravel cut averaging 35 feet in depth and about 1500 feet long.

Cut at Greendale Avenue bridge

the new road crosses the land owned by the city in Needham for water supply purposes.

The Stuart Company has been at work on the construction for about a year, and expects now to complete it by October 1st, or a month and a half earlier than the contract demands. Some idea of the magnitude of the work can be gleaned from the following figures: 625,000 cubic yards of earth have been excavated, 200,000 cubic yards of rock taken away, 30,000 cubic yards of masonry constructed, 250,000 feet of hard pine timber placed in temporary bridges, etc., 200,000 pounds of cast iron and steel used and 150,000 linear feet of spruce piling used in foundations. The estimated cost of the work is $650,000 and it requires from 400 to 600 men, 4 steam shovels, 100 dump cars, 8 locomotives and 28 steam drills. Four blacksmith shops have been maintained and quarters provided for the laborers in a sparsely settled country. The contract covered all kinds of work, ordinary filling and excavating, concrete bridge construction, depressing streets, building foundations for signal tower, bridging rivers, ditches and roads, constructing parkways and

Where the line crosses the land of the Needham Water Department a new brick intake house was constructed with street and sidewalk approaches, and a concrete bridge, which at present admits only to the woods. Through the Park land a new bridge was constructed which stands in isolated grandeur near the Great Plain Avenue bridge.

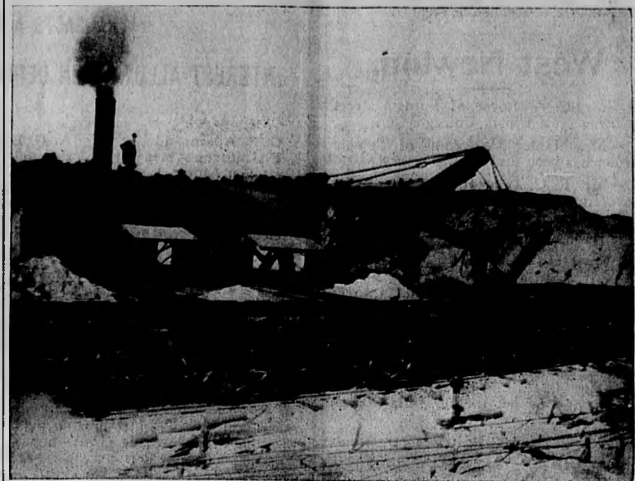

The Stuart Company in constructing the Great Plain Avenue bridge which was crossed by a trolley line, were obliged to build a temporary bridge for the trolley for use during the building of the new bridge and to relocate the car tracks on the new bridge when constructed.

Another interesting point on the line is the Temple Street bridge at West Roxbury, where a fine concrete arch bridge has been constructed, the grade of the street on both sides being some twelve feet higher than the road way under the new bridge and awaiting the action of the City of Boston to lower the street grade.

lot. Another symposium under the general head of Getting Acquainted With the Neighbors refutes the statement sometimes made that there is a lack of social life in suburban communities. Must a Man Be Rich to Grow Orchids is answered by Robert Cameron, in charge of the Harvard College Botanical Gardens, with a vigorous No. Clarence E. When patrolman Neagle arrived Marshall, it is said, at first stoutly denied having had any ring in his possession, but finally pointed out the place where he had thrown it into the grass. After a brief search the ring was found. The ring was later identified as the property of Mrs. Wright, who said she had recently lost a watch as well. Marshall had been employed by Mr. Wright less than a fortnight. He told

A Young Thief

After being held by a number of civilians who caught him at Newton Lower Falls Saturday afternoon, George E. Marshall, aged 17 years, employed by Samuel E. Wright of Winchester street, Newton Highlands, was arrested on a charge of larceny.

It is alleged that Marshall stole a diamond ring valued at $65 from the wife of his employer. The police have the ring, and a search is being made for a watch which Mrs. Wright says is also missing.

Marshall's arrest was made after a peculiar proceeding. He was employed that afternoon by Mr. Wright, who owns a portable saw mill, in sawing wood at the Lower Falls for John Dolan, a business man of that place. The police say that the young man for some reason climbed onto the roof of a shed, where he took a diamond ring from his pocket and offered to sell it to Augustus Cahill, a Lower Falls young man, for 50 cents. Cahill became suspicious and told Mr. Dolan, his uncle, of the incident. Word was sent to patrolman Martin Neagle, who was on duty in the vicinity.

In the meantime Marshall became frightened, it is said, and threw the ring into the grass. Several civilians then caught the young man and held him awaiting the arrival of the patrolman.

street roadways and hundreds of minor matters. Nineteen bridges were built, four of which had solid concrete arches, the remainder having concrete abutments. The smoothness and cleanliness of the concrete in these bridges and in the 16 culverts similarly constructed, is noticeable. The bridge over the Charles river is the largest on the line, being 150 feet in length, in two spans, with a center pier of concrete in the middle of the river. Foundation piles, 50 feet in length were required to obtain a proper foundation for the piers and abutments on this bridge.

The work of the steam shovels was most interesting. These gigantic laborers, with maws holding three cubic yards of material, literally eat their way through gravel and rocks alike. The use of steam shovels for excavating rock is said to be new in this part of the country, although common in the west. One of these shovels will easily lift a rock weighing three or four tons and deposit it in the waiting dump car. The rock excavation was nearly all located adjacent to the point where Great Plain Avenue crosses the new road. Here a cut was made 200 feet long, averaging 45 feet in depth, and 32 feet wide at the bottom. Many tons of dynamite were used in blasting this mass of rock, sometimes reaching as much as two tons a

The T. Stuart & Son Co., which has so successfully fulfilled this large contract was incorporated in May 1st, 1902, and succeeded the established business of Mr. Timothy Stuart. The firm has a reputation of handling large contracts and the Needham work cannot help but add to this reputation.

Literary Notes

No body who is interested in any phase of suburban living can fail to enjoy the October number of Suburban Life. It is a notable production, both for the high character of its articles, and the wide range and variety of its contents. Moreover, it is as beautiful as the best cuts, the best paper and the finest press work can make it. E. P. Powell, the famous horticultural expert, reveals just what his little nine-acre place cost, what the returns are and the best sources of income. A symposium entitled "Money Making Side Lines" tells how milk goats, pheasants, squab, bees and gardening are made to yield their profits to suburban residents. These are actual experiences and not theoretical possibilities. Ten-Acre Forestry suggests the pecuniary possibilities of a suburban wood

THEATRES

Keith's Theatre—Lovers of vaudeville have been having a series of feasts at Keith's of late, for never in the history of the house has a better series of programs been presented than during the past few weeks. The bill for the coming week gives every indication of being up to the highest standard, as a glance at the acts announced will quickly show. Valerie Bergere's annual engagement is always one of the events of the year. It will be doubly welcome this season because she is to play the best character she has ever done in the daintiest playlet she has ever had "O'Chicka San" in "His Japanese Wife." For several years past The Fays with their seances in what they called the science of "Thaumaturgy" have had a great measure of success in fooling the great mass of the American public. Of course there have always been doubting Thomases who have contended that their methods were simply clever tricks and now the sceptics are to have the laugh on the believers, for The Fays in "Flamaturgy" will expose the methods of The Fays in a most effective, and also laughable, manner. Other features of the bill will include "Princess Trixie," the most intelligent of equines, who made so many friends at Waverland the past summer; Dave Lewis, the clever Dutch humorist; the three Moulere Sisters, Wonderful performers on the horizontal bars; the Gems, the company of English entertainers who here Sisters, wonderful performers who are scoring so heavily this week; Redford and Winchester, jestic jugglers; the Rooney Sisters, two chic soubrettes; Lily Seville, a pretty and talented English comedienne; Hughes and Brown, conversational comedians; McGrath and Paige, banjoists, and Daly and Devere, Irish comedy skitists.

Tremont Theatre—In presenting to the public the new romantic opera, "The Student King," by De Koven, Ranken and Stange, which will have its first performance in Boston at the Tremont Theatre next Monday evening, Mr. Henry W. Savage has endeavored to eclipse all his former efforts in the realms of

A Cow Sale

A red cow was the bone of contention in a long civil case in the police court Tuesday morning. The court was called upon to tell to whom the animal should be given, but the case was such a complicated one that associate justice Copeland, sitting in the absence of Judge Kennedy, reserved his decision.

The peaceful animal was bought by the late George H. Chambers, a well known Newton Upper Falls character, from John M. Spence of that village about a year ago. It is said that the price agreed upon was $30, and Mrs. Chambers asserts that her late husband bought the animal only because Spence owed him money and he knew of no other way to square up accounts. Last May Mr. Chambers died.

Mrs. Chambers says that Spence owed her husband $5, said to have been for hay for the very same cow. This amount, she also says, was allowed towards the purchase of the animal and there were also cash payments amounting to $10.

When Mr. Chambers suddenly died last May, Spence called at the Chambers' house on Circuit avenue. Mrs. Chambers asserts that she offered to pay the remaining $15 due for the cow, but that Spence then declared the animal had been sold for $55 instead of $30.

Spence took the cow home. Soon after he was arraigned in the local court on a charge of larceny of the animal. He was convicted and fined $40, but appealed. In the higher court the case was not pressed.

In Tuesday's hearing given in the civil case it was asserted that the trou-which $100,000 was for gypsy moths, $53,061.10 for Wellington bridge and $15,000 for band concerts. We mention these matters in detail that our readers may know some of the trivial ways in which the park assessments are used. We object particularly to the band concert item, for if it is a matter of governmental authority to educate one man's musical tastes, it is equally good logic to claim that the government should educate another man's stomach with a free lunch.

In the grand total paid by each city under the different classes of water, parks and sewers, Newton stands eighth, being outclassed by Boston, Somerville, Cambridge, Brookline, Chelsea, Malden and Quincy. Our city stands fifth, however, if the water assessments, which is large in cities using metropolitan water, is omitted from the calculation. The order will then run as follows: Boston, Cambridge, Brookline, Somerville and Newton. The water assessment in cities using the metropolitan water is offset by the water receipts in such places. Somerville, for instance which pays a water assessment of some $307,000 has a water income of over $216,000.

Newton pays the eighth largest park assessment, although this year's rating is hardly a fair comparison as we received a rebate of an overpayment in 1905. Our normal standing will be much higher in the future. In the sewer assessments, Newton ranks fourth, being preceded by Boston, Cambridge and Brookline.

The figures show that Newton pays its full proportion of metropolitan expenses and probably receives as little return for its total of $81,729.30 as any municipality in the district.

Holland-Mannix

The wedding of Miss Annie F. Mannix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mannix of Needham, and John J. Holland of New York, took place Tuesday morning at St. Mary's church, Newton Upper Falls. In the presence of many friends of the couple the ceremony was performed by Rev. T. J. Danahy.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Alice Mannix, as maid of honor. The best man was William Holland, brother of the groom. Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents on Maple street, Needham, which was attended by many young people of that town and of the Newton Upper Falls district, where the bride is well known.

In this practical age when young and old measure values by the money standard it is not surprising that so many students feel the necessity of acquiring a knowledge of business principles, so that they can go out into the world and more easily make a place for themselves. Hundreds of young men and women are in attendance at Burdett College, studying stenography, touch typewriting, bookkeeping and general business principles. Burdett College is centrally located at 18 Boylston St., corner of Washington St. The cost per term of ten weeks is $37.50. One of the active departments of this very successful college is its Employment Bureau, through which the graduates go out into positions.

light opera. It is also designed to build up a new singing organization, that may even divide attention with Mr. Savage's famous Grand Opera company, for the production of higher grade operas. The story of "The Student King" is founded on an old Sixteenth Century custom in Bohemia that permitted the students of Prague University each year to select one of their popular fellows to reign as King from noon to midnight on the annual feast day. Francis, a heroic young student, who supposes himself of humble birth, is chosen in the year 1600 as student king. On this day the bridal train of Princess Ilsa of Tyrol passes through Prague to meet King Rudolph, to whom she is betrothed. The Princess attends the festivities and meets the Student King under the impression that he is the real monarch. It is a case of love at first sight. At the masked ball, with which the festivities conclude, the lovers plan an elopement, which is frustrated by King Rudolph. While Francis is endeavoring to exert his brief authority as ruling monarch, the hour of midnight arrives when he must give up the sceptre. His supposed mother on learning of his peril appears before the King and confesses that Francis is the long lost heir apparent, who had been stolen in his infancy by a designing pretender to the throne. Amidst great rejoicing Francis is released, and Rudolph abdicates in favor of the new sovereign, who then marries Ilsa. In "The Student King" Reginald De Koven believes he has written a score that will rival any of his numerous successes, which include "Robin Hood," "The Red Feather," and many other light operas familiar to the playgoing public. The beautiful costumes, novel scenic effects and large chorus provided by Manager Savage form a picturesque setting for this musical romance. The cast includes Lina Abbarbanell, the former grand opera songstress; William Weedon, the sweet-voiced tenor; Flavio Acaro, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Alexander Clark, the well-known comedian; Alice Jackson, Dittmar Poppin, Thomas Leary, Jeanne Caldecott, Catherine Cooper, Eva Fallon and others.

Grand Opera House—"My Tom Boy Girl," the American musical comedy drama spectacle by Chas. E. Blaney, with that little queen of comedienne, Miss Lottie Williams in the leading role, will be next week's attraction at the Boston Grand Opera House. The supporting Company will include fifty people. There are four acts and the scenes number ten. They are replete with dramatic situations, and telling lines. The romance which the play unfolds is irresistible and blesome cow did not belong to Spence at all, but was originally owned by his mother, Mrs. Isabella W. Spence, and that he simply acted as an agent in the transaction. This development only served to further complicate the tangle.

Sometime last spring the cow was taken back from Spence's place on Cottage street to the home of the Chambers family. Awaiting the court's decision the Chambers family is now holding the animal.

The late Mr. Chambers for many years conducted the old "star" mail route between the Newton Upper Falls postal station and the Eliot railroad station. After his death last May the postoffice department was unable to secure anyone to continue the route, and the last star route in this city soon afterward passed into history.

Metropolitan Figures

State Treasurer Chapin has prepared an interesting pamphlet for the municipal student, showing the various assessments for metropolitan improvements paid by the different cities and towns in the metropolitan district and the methods and detail of making up those assessments.

The district comprises 41 cities and towns with a population of 1,475,364. The financial obligations for metropolitan water, parks and sewerage assumed by the Commonwealth primarily and subsequently borne by the municipalities interested is $67,160,412, of which, $40,500,000 is for water. The assessments levied in 1905 amounted to $3,975,144.40, an increase of $252,288.58 over last year. This increase was largely caused by park matters amounting to $338,936.08, of
